

SAY RELATIVES TORTURED BY NICARAGUAN REBELS

Inhumanity in Central America Worse Than on the Congo

APPEAL TO YANKEES

Government Troops Have Freed 200 Prisoners at Mayasa

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Conditions in Granada are "worse than those which existed in the Congo and in the Putumayo," according to a State Department report.

The rebels have turned upon helpless non-combatants, women and children, and their warfare is characterized by a return to absolute barbarism. American Minister Weitzel has received a letter from Pedro Rafael Cuadra, minister of finance to President Diaz, and from Carlos Cuadra, the Nicaraguan minister of the "mixed" claims commission, in which they demand humanity and civilization they beg Minister Weitzel to do all that he can to protect their families who are being ferociously persecuted at Granada.

They have learned that General Maena and his agents are persecuting their relatives because they themselves are members of the Diaz government. Their brothers, they declare, have been inhumanly tortured, deprived of food and obliged to pay large sums for a few crumbs.

For an uninterrupted period of five days they were confined in a small filthy closet and for three days of that time they were not allowed food and water. When let out they were near death.

Colonel Daniel Maus, in command of Fort San Francisco, overlooking the town, has threatened to shoot the Cuadras brothers, but the minister of finance has said that Mrs. Cuadra, wife of the minister of finance, is being hunted in Granada in order that she may be tortured.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—Nicaraguan government troops captured the Cuadras, at Mayasa yesterday and liberated 200 prisoners, according to private cable messages received here today.

It is believed here that General Sedon and the revolutionary forces have retired to Granada and the surrounding mountains on Lake Nicaragua, where it is thought a decisive battle will be fought, within the next few days.

WARRING CHINESE AGREE ON SCHEME

Compromise Between Strong Central and Provincial Governments

LONDON, Sept. 21.—An important program in the interest of reform has been drawn up and agreed to by the four Chinese leaders, President Yuan Shai Kai, ex-Provincial President Sun Yat Sen, Vice President Li Yuan Heng and Acting Premier Pung Siao, according to the Daily Mail's Peking correspondent.

The program, he said, represents an agreement between the opposing parties and on the question of centralization is a compromise. Following are the principal headings of the program:

The empire to be placed under a unified system of government; the military system to be centralized; China to be opened to foreign capital to build railways, open mines, erect steel works and to carry on every kind of manufacture calculated to benefit the people, while every encouragement will be given to agriculture, forestry and industrial and commercial enterprises.

Military affairs, diplomacy, finance, justice and communications are to be conducted under a central power; provincial affairs to be under the principles of self government, so far as circumstances permit; and the finances of the country regulated at the earliest possible moment. Order is to be maintained.

FUNERAL OF THREE IN HALL TRAGEDY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—On the eve of the Chinese New Year festival, was held today the triple funeral of James Hall, his wife and Arthur Hall, who killed them and then committed suicide Wednesday night. Habb Meyer said that tomorrow, which is the day of atonement, on which men are judged for the sins of the year, the souls of the slain and the slayer would receive judgment.

KNOX IS SOON TO RETURN TO THE UNITED STATES

TOKYO, Sept. 20.—Philander C. Knox, who attended the funeral of the late emperor Meiji as the special ambassador of the United States, was the guest of honor at a dinner given tonight by Baron Ichiji Shibusawa, a prominent economist.

Tomorrow morning, Knox will breakfast with the premier, Marquis Saionji, and immediately afterwards will leave Tokyo for Yokohama. After attending a dinner given by the American colony at Yokohama, he will sail for the United States.

THIRTY YEARS' PAROLE FOR BOY WHO POISONED HIS MOTHER'S COFFEE

SANTA ROSA, Sept. 20.—Adam Clark, the 14-year-old boy who killed his mother at Windsor, Cal., by putting poison in a coffee can, was placed on probation for thirty years today by the Superior Court. He was ordered sent to the state reformatory until 21 years of age, with the provision that if he does not conduct himself properly there, he will be sentenced to the penitentiary without further procedure.

MORGAN MANSION BURGLAR IS CAUGHT

Fellow Tries to Sell Loot He Had Taken Last January

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Burglary of the mansion of J. P. Morgan, Jr., while Morgan and his family were sleeping, has been confessed, the police say, by John Bernauer, whom they arrested today. In his possession were found watches, medals, diamonds and other articles of jewelry stolen from the house.

The burglary took place last January. Morgan offered a reward of $5000 for the recovery of the stolen articles. Detectives shadowing a man named Detlef being Reynolds Proby, who made a somewhat suspicious stop at the Tombs prison, watched the suspect for a while, and then he was arrested as he was about to enter the office of a pawnbroker in the Bronx, where he tried to dispose of jewelry. He was arrested and a search convinced the officers that they had not Proby but the Morgan burglar.

The prisoner gave his name as John Bernauer, and said he was a native of Munich, Bavaria, 23 years of age.

In telling of the burglary, Bernauer said that about 4 o'clock on the morning of January 26th, while prowling in the vicinity of the Morgan house, he found one of the back doors unlocked. In sticking foot, he was almost caught by the door, but he slipped out. He found a room in the big house. He found little attractive to him until he reached Morgan's own room. He crept up to a bureau and ransacked the drawers. He got away without detection but could make little use of his loot, as he found that all the pawnshops were watched. In eight months he thought the case would be forgotten.

HATCH PLEADS FOR HIS OWN PAROLE

SAN JOSE, Sept. 20.—The petition for parole of Jackson Hatch, under seven years' sentence for murder, was heard by Superior Judge Welch this afternoon. Hatch made a personal and eloquent argument in his own behalf. District Attorney A. M. Frew and Special Prosecutor W. A. Hooley appeared for the people. The court full of the petition was granted. The court full of the petition was granted. The court full of the petition was granted.

ENJOIN LOCAL OPTION ELECTION IN SPOKANE

SPOKANE, Sept. 20.—The five judges of the Superior Court of Spokane county decided today to issue an order forbidding the city commissioners from holding an election to submit the local option question to a vote. After the petition, containing 10,262 names, was filed, the anti-prohibitionists began proceedings to prevent the calling of an election, alleging that the petition was illegal for the reason that addresses were given on the petition by others than the signers. It also was alleged that in some cases, no person had signed for others than himself.

The court full of the petition was granted. The court full of the petition was granted. The court full of the petition was granted.

TO SPREAD STRIKE TO NEVADA MINES

Moyer Announces War on All Holdings of Utah Company

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 20.—An announcement by President Charles H. Moyer of the Western Federation of Miners that a number of the union executive committee was in his way to Elko, Nevada, to authorize a strike at the Nevada Consolidated Mine and Smelter; the return of D. C. Judding, general manager of the Utah Copper company, to his office in Salt Lake; the movement of machinery under guard and without interference at the Utah Copper Works and extensive strike among the miners were the developments in the Bingham mine strike this morning.

Mr. Judding left soon after his arrival.

The strikers at Bingham do not represent the sentiment of a majority of the employees. We will see that the men who want to work are given employment and protection. As to the date of resumption, I am not prepared to speak, but as soon as arrangements are made to give the employees proper protection the men will be put to work.

Moyer added to his earlier statement regarding Elko that the Nevada Consolidated employees were classified with the wage conditions, even when the Bingham mine trouble would go on, and that a man when authorized to do so by the federation.

BLOW UP BANK SAFE

LAKE PARK, Iowa, Sept. 20.—Robbers blew open the vault in the state bank here today, securing $3000 in cash and escaping in an automobile.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO PICK SLATE OF ELECTORS AT ONCE

Legislators to Caucus at Sacramento Next Monday Night

TO GO BY PETITION

Committee Is Appointed to Meet Bryan at Los Angeles

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—State Democratic leaders decided, at a meeting at Democratic headquarters here today, to hold a caucus in Sacramento Monday night to select candidates for presidential electors to be voted upon at the convention the next day and to discuss plans for the immediate circulation of petitions by which the names of these nominees may be placed upon the ballot in the November election. The decision to place the names on the ballot by petition was made to avoid possible difficulties arising from the state primary law being declared unconstitutional.

Activities at the party headquarters today were largely taken up in preparation for the visit of William J. Bryan. The following state reception committee appointed today, will leave for Los Angeles tomorrow night and will meet Bryan there Monday morning:

James D. Phelan, James G. McGuire, Thomas E. Hayden, Louis H. Mosser, James H. Barry, San Francisco; Thomas J. Geary, Santa Rosa; W. H. Rogers, San Jose; Charles A. Barlow, Bakersfield; Warren E. Foulsham, Oakland; T. J. Wiscarver, Modesto; Charles King, Hanford.

The Taft Republican county convention met here tonight and adjourned until Monday night when it will complete organization.

REFUSES TO PAY U'REN'S CLAIM

State Board of Control Finds No Authority for Employment at Washington

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—The state board of control has refused to approve the claims of Milton T. U'ren, private secretary to Congressman Kent, for salary at the rate of $200 per month for services to the state conservation commission in active information at Washington in the last lands controversy. U'ren has written the board demanding his salary or an explanation of the board's refusal to pay him.

The board had to know the secretary of the conservation commission, C. Danes, president of the conservation commission, and Louis R. Glynn, its secretary, have failed to come to Sacramento to explain their employment of U'ren despite the board's notification.

TEMPERATURE 101 AT LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—This city suffered yesterday in the most uncomfortable weather front it has experienced in years. The temperature climbed during the day to the highest point it had reached this year, 93 degrees, and then after 5 o'clock, just before the sun was ready to set, the temperature suddenly shot up to 101. This was the warmest of any day since 1905. However the heat lasted only a short time, and the night grew comfortable.

WILD ELEPHANT ATTACKS CEYLON STAGE COACH

CALCUTTA, India, Sept. 20.—An attack by a wild elephant on the Mull-tilliam-Vishnuam mail coach, in the northern province of Ceylon, is reported in letters from Colombo. Appearing unexpectedly from the jungle, the elephant killed the driver with one blow of its trunk and then smashed the coach against a telegraph pole.

The passengers, who were thrown out of the vehicle, hid themselves in a grove of trees, while the enraged animal tried to dislodge them. When the animal disappeared into the thicket the frightened travelers climbed a tree, where they remained throughout the night.

BETTER FARMING METHODS NEEDED, SAYS BREWERS

BOSTON, Sept. 20.—A million dollars a year awaits the farmers of every grain-growing country in the United States, in return for more scientific farming, said the crop improvement committee of the United Farmers' Association, at its fifty-second annual convention.

Brewers are facing famine prices for raw material because of the increasing demand for mulling barley and distilling production due to soil exhaustion and the withdrawal of land from cultivation, said the report. The committee reported that it had established development bureaus for the benefit of the farmers in nearly 300 countries.

HARVESTERS CASE POSTPONED

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—The taking of testimony in the government suit to the effect of the International Harvester company was postponed today until October 2nd. Counsel for the defendant stated one of the company's attorneys was in California and it was impossible to secure new counsel familiar with the case.

NEGRO LYNCHED WHEN CAUGHT IN MOJAVE DESERT

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Sept. 20.—The lynching of a negro on the desert thirty miles east of Mojave by men alleged to be employed on the Los Angeles aqueduct was reported here tonight. It was said that the negro assaulted the six-year-old child of a woman who is homesteading a tract of land near the aqueduct camp in Jacobine canyon and the men formed a posse which pursued the negro, surrounding him in a gulch, several miles distant from the scene of the alleged crime. They robbed his body with bullets. Corporal W. A. Dixon and Deputy Sheriff Charles H. Smith left here tonight in an automobile to make an investigation.

MANY ARMENIANS SEEK ADMISSION FROM MEXICO

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20.—Many Armenians applying at the Junta, (Immigration) in the United States have been denied admission by Immigration inspectors until a decision is rendered by the special board of inquiry of the immigration bureau. According to Inspector M. J. Dayton, stationed at the Junta, the Armenians were brought to Tijuana by steamers from Tampico to Manzanillo and Mazatlan and journeyed thence to Ensenada, Lower California.

In nearly every case, Inspector Dayton says the Armenians claim they are on their way to Los Angeles and Riverside where they say employment has been promised them.

Seven of them have been admitted, and the decision of the board regarding these seven, that is whether they will be allowed to remain in the United States, will be applied to the applications of the remainder to be admitted.

HILLES SUGGESTS CANDIDATES HOLD JOINT DEBATES

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Chairman Hilles of the "National national committee" and Acting Chairman McAdoo of the Democratic national committee in a letter made public tonight, suggested a series of joint debates throughout the country, between prominent speakers who would represent the views of the two parties on the tariff.

AVIATION MANAGERS IGNORANT OF FLYING

Birdmen Criticize Rules Which Governed When Men Were Killed

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Officials in charge of the aviation meet at Midway and none of them knew the first thing about aviation. They violated every rule to safeguard the lives of the aviators.

William Perkins, manager of Aviator Bruce Rogers, so treated at the meet today of Howard W. Gil of Baltimore, who was killed at the aviation meet at Midway last Saturday. When his plane crashed in the air with a propeller driven by George D. Stinson, a French aviator.

"If the officials had been more interested in the movements of the aviators instead of playing around displaying badges and showing their authority, the accident would have been avoided," Perkins said.

"Will you be so good as to tell me the air on the day of his death, I don't like this idea of flying at night. There is going to be a serious accident as a result of it."

Walter D. Rogers, a French aviator, for in a speech he said the aviators at Grant Park, who are getting over the course at about two miles a minute. Aviators should make an attempt to return to the ground when the condition of the air is dangerous.

DEAF MUTE CLEVER AT CHECK FORGERY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20.—Caught by the sheriff at Northvale, Cal., in California, a deaf mute, was arrested today just as he had pocketed $100 from a hotel clerk on a check alleged to be forged. Hart conducted his negotiations with a pen and pencil. He is charged with forgery.

TWO KILLED IN SMELTER EXPLOSION

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 20.—Two men are dead, five others hurt, as a result of an explosion in a smelter here tonight. The explosion occurred in a room where a large quantity of dynamite was stored. The cause of the explosion is not yet known.

MORGAN AND PERKINS ARE TO BE WITNESSES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Clipp committee investigating campaign contributions and expenditures has determined to hear J. P. Morgan and Charles Perkins, who were the first to appear Tuesday, October 1st.

Former Senator Dubois, Speaker Champ Clark's campaign manager before the Baltimore convention, conferred with Senator Perkins today over the points on which he is to ask him to testify. Dubois wanted to assemble the necessary records.

FOREIGN COMPANY'S BID WAY UNDER AMERICAN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—Secretary Meyer will have to decide whether the navy will violate its unwritten policy of awarding contracts to American concerns and award a contract for 2000 fourteen-inch shells to the Hatfield Steel company of Hatfield, England. The English company has underbid its nearest American competitor nearly $200,000 on a $1,000,000 contract. The American concern has declined the offer and is now negotiating a contract for ammunition with the Navy Department to decide if it intends to award to a foreign company a contract for ammunition.

The federal loss was nine killed and sixteen wounded. The rebels under Salazar were reported to have withdrawn to the west after today's battle.

WOMAN FRUSTRATED CAPTURE OF ROBBERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Police Lieutenant Bernard J. Burns, who was attacked by two of the New Westminister, D. C. bank robbers when he attempted to arrest them in a saloon, tonight said his efforts were frustrated by a woman.

"I had the man covered, and would have arrested or shot them dead if it had not been for a woman who was in the place," said the lieutenant. "The moment I drew my revolver she leaped on my back like a tigress and held me while the men beat me into unconsciousness."

A man said to be a go-between is reported to have informed the police today that there were four, instead of two, bank robbers in the saloon when the police went there to make arrests, and that they were negotiating to buy immunity when they were surprised by the appearance of Lieutenant Burns.

INTERFERING WITH BLACK MAILING SCHEME

SAN JOSE, Sept. 20.—The hotel and clubhouse at Warm Springs were both burned to the ground this morning. The fire originated in the kitchen.

ASSASSINATED WHILE DESTROYING LIQUOR ON BORDER OF OKLAHOMA

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Sept. 20.—Lee Bowman, state enforcement officer, was shot and killed at Caney, Kan., early today while destroying liquor he had seized when an attempt was made to bring it into Oklahoma. Two spectators were wounded.

The shots were fired from ambush. A posse is searching for two men said to have owned the liquor.

METHODISTS TO FIGHT GAMBLERS

Conference Voices Opposition to Race Track Measure

PACIFIC GROVE, Sept. 20.—The California conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in annual session here pledged cooperation today with the opponents of the proposed law prohibiting race track gambling, to be voted on in November. The act was condemned on account of its exceptional clauses.

A committee was appointed to recommend membership to a permanent commission to support a state plan for a religious exhibit at the Panama Pacific exposition.

Dr. Batchelor, fraternal delegate to the Pacific Coast Methodist Church South, predicted that eventually the Methodist church in America would be united.

"I would hail with joy the unification of American Methodism," he said. "I believe that in the providence of God it will come."

Bishop Shepard responded, declaring that the conference reciprocated Dr. Batchelor's feelings.

JAPANESE COMMANDER MAY HAVE SUICIDED

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 20.—Insistent reports that Captain Sasaki, who has been in command of the command of the Imperial Japanese ship Tasei Maru, of the department of communications, Tokyo, Japan, has committed suicide at the home of a Japanese farmer in the country, are in circulation today. All that is known is that Captain Sasaki left a local sanatorium two days ago and disappeared.

He was in the hospital. It is claimed, a result of an attempt aboard ship to kill himself. When recovered sufficiently he left in company with a Japanese who called for him. Officers of the ship are quoted as saying they do not know where Captain Sasaki is.

OMAHA, NEB., SEPT. 20.—A defense of his action in quitting the Republican party, and taking the lead in the formation of a new party, was made today by Colonel Roosevelt.

He said he had been urged to remain in the Republican party, but that "the only way you can reform that kind of a party is to quit it."

Colonel Roosevelt spent the day in Nebraska, traveling in a leisurely way with a speech for every stop. At Lincoln he spent three hours and at Omaha he spent two hours. The Omaha auditorium and the Lincoln auditorium were filled as lightly as the police would permit.

CASTS LOT WITH ROOSEVELT

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Sept. 20.—John Albus withdrew today from the Republican ticket as a Taft elector for the fourth Missouri district, and announced himself for Roosevelt and the entire Progressive ticket. Albus was secretary of the party here during the Roosevelt administration.

TO OPEN TAFT FIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—National Chairman Hilles announced today that the Republican meeting at Columbus, Ohio, tomorrow, which has been regarded as a state affair, would be a formal opening of the national Republican presidential campaign.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts will deliver the keynote speech, and addresses will be made by Representative Philip Campbell of Kansas, Representative James Watson of Indiana, and the Rev. John Wesley Hill of New York.

Hilles said that from the time Senator Lodge gives the signal until November 5th, the Republican campaign will be in full swing.

BRYAN IN MONTANA

BOZEMAN, Mont., Sept. 20.—Declaring that "when Presidents and ex-Presidents fall out honest people come to their own," William J. Bryan in two addresses here today, made a scathing denunciation of Colonel Roosevelt, saying that he had come into the vineyard of Progressivism at a "quarter to twelve."

He declared that more trusts had come into being in the Roosevelt administration than he had a chance to control them, than ever before. He denigrated the proposed trust control by a bureau as a method advised by George W. Perkins.

Bryan took issue with Colonel Roosevelt's reply at Denver to his statements regarding a third term by saying that if no limit were placed on the number of consecutive terms a President could serve, it would mean the implied agreement between Taft and Roosevelt at the time of Roosevelt's election. He declared that the "steam roller" that had run over Colonel Roosevelt at Chicago had been constructed in New York, and that the program at Baltimore that they had put through at Chicago.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 20.—As a result of telegrams from Graham, election expert in Secretary of State, John H. Brown, sent to all the county clerks, the date of the state of the 1916 general election was compelled to wait, showing that 32,000 ballots were cast. Under the 3 per cent clause in the primary law, the 1917 election will have to be postponed for the reason that the 1916 election was held on the 19th of November, and the 1917 election is to be held on the 19th of November.

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 20.—A defense of his action in quitting the Republican party, and taking the lead in the formation of a new party, was made today by Colonel Roosevelt.

He said he had been urged to remain in the Republican party, but that "the only way you can reform that kind of a party is to quit it."

Colonel Roosevelt spent the day in Nebraska, traveling in a leisurely way with a speech for every stop. At Lincoln he spent three hours and at Omaha he spent two hours. The Omaha auditorium and the Lincoln auditorium were filled as lightly as the police would permit.

It was at Lincoln that Colonel Roosevelt spoke of his decision to leave the Republican party. He began by saying that Victor Rosewater of Omaha, former Republican national campaign manager, "stole the Nebraska delegates to the Republican convention just as effectively as if the delegates had been thrown out." He attacked the leaders of the Republican party, adding:

"Imagine Abraham Lincoln in the company of Harlow and Penrose and the other authority people."

"It has been said," he continued, "Oh, well, of course this is bad, but you should stay in the party and reform it. With our way you. At Lincoln that kind of men is with a club. Look at what the Republican national committee is doing at this moment. It is seating the men who were beaten at the primaries last spring. In New Jersey, for instance, Franklin Murphy. The people put him out and the national committee put him back. In Massachusetts we beat Crane for delegate by 11,000 votes. The people threw him out. The national committee put him back. In Kansas the people elected the primaries with a sweep. We threw Mr. Mulvane out and the national committee put him back. That national committee has no right."

but Penrose and Roosevelt back, but they will get back.

The national committee is the one that will handle the Republican national convention in 1916. They are already behaving worse than they behaved before and to be able to behave worse than that shows almost genius.

BRYAN AND WILSON

Colonel Roosevelt then turned to the Democratic party, speaking of William J. Bryan and criticizing the position of Governor Wilson in this campaign. "One of the prominent features of this campaign," he said, "has been that Mr. Bryan has said we have stolen our issues from the Democratic platform. Stolen! The Democratic platform? I would have liked to see it as a gift."

"Mr. Wilson talked rather gingerly when he spoke of the Democratic platform. He said it was not a program. If the men making it were honest, then it is a program."

Roosevelt said Governor Wilson had expressed a platonic attachment to the Progressive platform, but that by his utterances and his party's platform he was wedded to a theory of government which would make it impossible for him, if he were elected, to carry out Progressive principles. Colonel Roosevelt said Governor Wilson's theories must have been taken from the school room, but he concluded, "no academic theory will prevent us from doing elemental justice."

Colonel Roosevelt said that the Democratic party was the party under the influence of bosses. "Whoever the Democratic President might be, the Congress would be the same old Congress, chosen by the same old set of bosses."

OPENING OF CAMPAIGN

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—Twelve hours were spent in Columbus today by Governor Woodrow Wilson, but in these were crowded the formal opening of the Democratic campaign in Ohio, a luncheon with Governor Harmon, Representatives James M. Cox, the Democratic candidate for governor, and state leaders and a series of speeches and receptions.

It was a strenuous wind-up to the presidential nominee's first week of consecutive campaigning. As he started back to Sea Girt, N. J., tonight, he said he was more than pleased with the thrill of campaigning and with the enthusiastic greetings he had received.

Enthusiasm and demonstration spread through the day's events. For the first time in his life, the governor said, he saw what a political organization looked like. He saw the precinct organizers, the county leaders, and the state executives and with them hundreds of co-workers.

From the meeting of the Democratic organization the governor went to the Chamber of Commerce and addressed a meeting of educators from all parts of Ohio.

The candidate then addressed a meeting of several hundred business men.

DEMOCRATS AND BUSINESS

"One of the most amazing notions of our politics," said the governor to them, "is that the Democratic party is not interested in the business life of the United States. When you go to the States you find that the United States is very interesting that about half the population should be suspected of the desire to commit commercial harakiri."

In attacking the idea of a board of experts to handle the tariff question, he said conditions were constantly changing, with the tariff as often as every twenty-four hours.

"You cannot touch one tariff schedule," he added, "without having incalculable results in other schedules. I suppose that when you deal with the woolen schedule, for example, you supposed that was all the woolen men were interested in. But the woolen men if I may credit what I have read in their reports are almost as much interested in the chemical as in the woolen schedule."

"Bodies of experts to guide legislation have always been the machinery of one thing, and that is delay," Governor Wilson tonight addressed a throng that filled Memorial Hall, the most spacious of the city's auditoriums. Governor Harmon presided. Outside there was an overflow meeting where the governor made another speech.

CONTROLLED MARKETS

In his Memorial Hall speech, Governor Wilson said:

"Leaders of the Republican party and of the third party have astonished the country by practically abandoning any serious attempt to meet the main issues of the campaign. The leaders of the third party at the outset declared that the real issue of the present contest was the high cost of living; but they have laid less and less emphasis upon that because they have seen that they cannot seriously attack that question without attacking the question of the tariff and of the trusts in a very different way from that in which they are actually approaching them."

"Prices have risen all over the world, but much faster and very much higher in high tariff countries, where monopoly was protected, than in low tariff countries where the competition excluded monopoly. And the chief cause of high living in America is that the markets are controlled."

"No wonder, therefore, that the leaders of the Republican and Progressive parties are saying less about high prices. They dare not, or will not, go straight at the issue of high prices. Government regulation will shield monopoly as well as guide it, and regulation is not freedom.

"The net result is that both these parties have to all intents and purposes abandoned the central issue of the campaign. The Democratic party are bold enough and far-sighted enough to see that they must tackle frankly and directly this question. They see as clearly as anyone else that business must in our day be done upon a great scale, but they know that there is a size which is natural and a size which is unnatural in business."

BETTER BUSINESS MEN

"Monopoly is always in the long run weak and inefficient, and the leaders of the Democratic party know perfectly well they are serving the business interests of the country by doing much more intelligently, than the leaders of either of the other parties, because they mean so to regulate competition and free the condition of business in this country as to substitute the efficient for the merely powerful. It is futile to stand for the causes of our present wrongs and wisely propose to control and moderate the results, and yet that is all our opponents suggest."

"I wonder what the regulation is to accomplish for the working man through the instrumentality of those who have been our most successful opponents, for after all, the attitude of the government toward labor lies at the heart of almost everything that concerns us as a nation. A nation may be said to consist of those who do its daily labor, and America has always boasted that she was the home of free labor, that all were workers and that to her choice and to her pride of her unbounded opportunities. Shall we substitute for this dream and ambition of ours a regime under which great regulated monopolies shall be forever the chief patrons of labor? Shall we not, on the contrary, assist to the placing of men free to place them in a field of varied enterprises, controlled by no set of men, by no government, where they can look about for opportunity and find it where an economic democracy will make them feel that they have a vital part in everything that affects enterprise and the hope of the success of the nation."

TAFT GOING TO VIRGINIA

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 20.—Plans for President Taft's vacation were changed again today and it became known that the President probably will remain in Beverly only until October 20th. He had intended staying at Farmington until a few days before election, and then, closing up his summer home, travel to Cincinnati to vote.

According to the plan President Taft will leave Beverly with Mrs. Taft for Hot Springs, Va., late in October. He will vote in Cincinnati and return to Hot Springs for a long stay, probably remaining there until a few days before Congress convenes in December.

COMPLETE ROOSEVELT LIST

TOPEKA, Sept. 20.—A complete set of ten Roosevelt electors will appear on the election ballot in November in an independent column. This is the positive statement made tonight by William Allen White, State Progressive campaign manager.

If the present Roosevelt electors wish to make the race as independent, petitions containing their names will be filed. If there is any friction, a complete new list will be filed. White said tonight that he had petitions for both lists and would file one set, probably Monday.

"If the Taft people keep on harassing us after we have moved our electors over into the independent column," he stated, "they will get no opportunity to use the Republican column. We will file the names of Roosevelt electors on the independent column and keep the present electors right where they are until it is too late for the Taft people to file."

SEEKS REPUBLICAN VOTES

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—Governor Woodrow Wilson made his hearty approval today to the formation in New York of the Wilson National Progressive Republican League. The governor and Rudolph Spreckels, now in New York, in charge of the movement, exchanged telegrams made public today.

Spreckels, writing under date of September 19, said:

"Eastern headquarters of the Wilson National Progressive Republican League were today opened in the Metropolitan building, New York. Our league was founded by Progressive Republicans who hope to save the Progressive movement that was started some years ago in the Republican party, but which is now being betrayed by the organization of Colonel Roosevelt's third term party."

"Under these conditions, you alone deserve the support of true Progressives who place principles above personal ambition. Our membership is wholly Republican, but we feel justified in voting and working for your election, since the candidate of the Republican party does not represent the Progressive majority in that party and Roosevelt's candidacy is hopeless and only serves to divide our Progressive forces."

To which Governor Wilson replied:

"Your telegram telling me of the formation of the Wilson National Progressive Republican League gave me the deepest gratification and encouragement. The action you and your associates are taking seems to me truly patriotic. The Progressive movement ought not to be divided. No mere attachment to a party name should now separate men whose purposes and convictions are united for a common object. The formation of the league will tend to make one of the most reassuring indications of the temper of thoughtful men. May I not convey to you my congratulations on your own part in the movement."

CHAMP CLARK'S DATE

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—Data at which Speaker Champ Clark is to address meetings were announced at Democratic headquarters today. Beginning tomorrow, it was said Speaker Clark will begin a campaign which will keep him busy until election. He is to visit New Mexico, Arizona, California, Nevada and other western states. He will make several speeches in Missouri next week.

DECLINES TO MEET DEBS

BEVERLY, Mass., Sept. 20.—An invitation to President Taft to enter into joint dinner with Eugene V. Debs, the nominee of the Socialist party for President, was declined today by White House officials. The invitation suggested that the oratorical encounter take place in Philadelphia on the night of September 28th, and assurances were given that 20,000 persons would come to hear it.

The President's declination was based upon the fact that he has announced his intention of taking no speaking part in the campaign.

One of the most important engagements on the President's program for next week is with the fifth international congress of Chambers of Commerce. He will be the guest of the congress at its banquet in Boston, September 26.

JOHNSON AT CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, Sept. 20.—Governor Johnson of California entered the home city of President Taft tonight and told his fellow townsmen that the nation's chief executive would run third in the coming election.

"Each day," said the vice presidential candidate, "it becomes more evident to me that President Taft is entirely eliminated from this fight. I now have visited eighteen states, and everywhere I find the sentiment the same. I think he will finish third."

And so with the President eliminated, he had to choose between two candidates. You have the Democratic candidate on one hand and the Progressive candidate on the other.

BIRDS OF PARADISE, LIVING MODELS, MUSIC, FLOWERS AND ELABORATE WINDOW DECORATIONS FOR FASHION SHOW

Fashion Centers Busily Engaged in Preparing for Great Style Event; Thirty-Seven Stores Will Participate

For several days the fashion show, which is to be held on Monday and Tuesday, has been under way. Plans have been laid with the most painstaking regard to detail. Trained men have been engaged in making every possible improvement that can be made.

But the elaborate plans that have been carefully worked out are now nearly complete. Tomorrow the first disclosure will be made to the public when the windows are unveiled. It is planned to have this take place simultaneously in all of the stores and to occur at precisely 7 o'clock in the evening.

In many of the stores great expense has been incurred in doing everything possible to make the Fashion Show a great success. Much has been expended in flowers, in music, and in window decorations. The window decorators have been working day and night. Many of them will work all day tomorrow in order to have their windows ready in time.

$1,000 BIRD OF PARADISE.
One of the most interesting exhibits will be a bird of paradise that will be shown by one of the stores. This bird has been brought into Fresno specially for the occasion. It is the only one of the kind that has ever been brought to America.

The gorgeous plumage of the bird makes it an object of much interest and it is especially appropriate this year because of the use of these plumes in millinery.

The expense of capturing a bird of paradise and the excessive care that must be taken to prevent injuring the plumes and the various expenses that are connected with its care, makes this particular bird valued at $1,000.

No expense has been spared in any of the thirty-seven participating stores in making their displays as interesting and beautiful as they can be made. From all parts of the country have come the best and the rarest to aid in making beautiful displays.

Most of the models are out of town people, several being professional models who make a specialty of this work. There will be a few local people, however, who will act as models during the two days of the Fashion Show.

LIVING MODELS ARRIVE TODAY.
Today the models who will assist in displaying goods will arrive. There will be quite a number of them, as the advantage of displaying goods in this way is much appreciated by merchants.

Stores selling millinery and women's wearing apparel will make the most extensive use of living models. The models will be out of town people, several being professional models who make a specialty of this work. There will be a few local people, however, who will act as models during the two days of the Fashion Show.

WINDOWS SHROUDED TODAY.
Today the windows will be shrouded behind the canvas that conceals the show windows. The trimmers are working hard. Far into the night will they work and many of them will be busy tomorrow also.

Slowly behind the curtained windows the magnificent window displays are taking shape. They have all been carefully planned in advance and all that remains is to assemble them, but this is a work that requires time and an artistic perception that is rare.

The window trimmers have promised that they will surprise sightseers by their efforts. For weeks they have been studying and preparing plans. They are each trying to outdo the others in the matter of unique exhibits.

But the work of the window trimmers is not over when this display is already to unveil tomorrow night, for many of them plan to make changes during the Fashion Show. They want to keep something new in the windows all of the time.

MUCH INTEREST THROUGHOUT VALLEY.
There is a great interest throughout the entire valley in the Fashion Show. From points many miles away come assurance that parties are being made up to come to Fresno for the purpose of studying the new styles. It is an opportunity that is to be lightly thrust aside for the follower of fashion could not have a better one than this to learn what is correct.

The special rates that have been secured on the railroads will also be a strong inducement. Fresno's fame as a fashion center will be clinched by the Fashion Show of this year, for the many articles that have been imported from the fashion centers of Europe, as well as America, will prove that there is nothing too good to be purchased in the Fresno stores.

WALTER A. CHURCH ON CONDUCT OF JUDICIARY

Judge G. E. Church Has Not Issued Eleven Chinese
Injunctions

Editor Republican—In your issue of this morning, the reporter has placed both of the judges of our Superior Court in a false light, and for some time past the reporter, for some reason or other, has been accusing Judge Church particularly of wrong doing in issuing restraining orders in the case of certain Chinese against Chief of Police Jones, and has been praising Judge Austin for refusing to issue restraining orders in similar cases.

Now, you must admit, that a discussion and comparison of the conduct of judicial officers, without knowing the facts, is wrong and can only have a tendency to bring the administration of justice into contempt. It is conceded, I believe, that we have as good judges in this county as in any in the state of California, and I think it will also be conceded that each judge has his own method of doing his duty, and in accordance with his best judgment and in accordance with law from the facts as presented to him, and this persistent attempt of the reporter to misrepresent the judges is actually mischievous.

Your paper has boasted of its character in that it will not willfully misrepresent and is willing at all times to be fair and just to all men, and yet, it has persistently accused one of the judges of issuing all of the restraining orders, and has stigmatized the attorneys who have appeared for these Chinese as "shysters" and "netter-fingers." For instance, this morning in the account of the raid, it is stated that eleven injunctions have been issued by Superior Judge Church, etc., and immediately thereafter that Judge Austin refused to issue restraining orders on Chief Jones, etc.

Appended to the record as taken from the books of the clerk's office, which are open to your reporter.

Up to date, there are eleven of these Chinese cases wherein the Chinese are attempting to restrain the Chief of Police from lawfully entering or interfering with their businesses. The first case is numbered 15018, filed December 19, 1911, the case of Wong Sheng Chong, in which Judge Austin granted a preliminary restraining order and the same now is in full force. The next was filed January 12, 1912, Home Association, numbered 14960, assigned to department No. 2; a preliminary injunction was granted in this case after a hearing.

There are now pending before Judge Austin five of the cases and five before Judge Church and one each assigned to four of these a preliminary restraining order was issued by Judge Church of department No. 2. Partial hearings have been held on those of department No. 1.

Another mistake is that the police are forbidden from entering these places by the restraining orders. That is not true. The restraining orders simply forbid the police from interfering with the possession of the premises provided by law. In other words, the Chinese are asking that the police be made to obey the law. There is a method pointed out in the law by which the police can get into any place, and they are simply prohibited

GAMBLERS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Charged with being behind barred and barricaded doors where gambling paraphernalia were exposed to view when three or more persons were present, Tony W. and J. J. Johnson appeared before Police Judge Briggs yesterday morning and entered pleas of guilty to violating a city ordinance. They were fined $10 each. The other men, who were caught in the raid Thursday night at 1055 1/2 street will be brought into court today to enter their pleas. All are out on bail.

NEW COP IS AFTER SIDEWALK RIDERS

Floyd Skaggs, the new patrolman, was on duty yesterday and was stationed on the outskirts of the city. His duty during the day was to catch more or less of the sidewalk riders and as a result a score of cyclists will appear before Police Judge Briggs today and explain why they rode their bikes on the sidewalks and not in the street.

FORMER TRUSTEE TO BE BURIED TODAY

The body of J. R. Myers, former city trustee and once a candidate for mayor, arrived in Fresno last night from San Diego and was taken in charge by Rogers & Dean. The funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock under the auspices of the G. A. R. Burial will be in Mountain View cemetery.

TRACES "BAD MAN" OVER TELEPHONE

SEATTLE, Sept. 20.—How many years will you give me if I kill Dave tonight?

When the telephone operator at police headquarters heard this he switched the call to the desk sergeant and looked toward the line in a suspicion. While the desk sergeant held the line in consultation, a motorcycle officer was shot out to the suburban. There he found a drifter, a blacksmith, or the wire. He was telling the sergeant how he had been seduced with a bad girl two years ago. The officer searched him and took a pistol from his pocket and arrested him for carrying concealed weapons. In his cell today drifter is greatly puzzled to know what brought about his arrest.

"DEAD SHOT" WARD SUED FOR DIVORCE

Complaint for divorce was filed yesterday by Mrs. Loretta Ward against Alexander Baxter Ward, charging failure to provide communally for more than one year. The defendant is a bond character known as "Dead Shot" Ward, which name clung to him ever since the days when he sold a squirrel exterminator as made-marked. The divorce follows after 21 years of married life, the Wards having married in June, 1891. Attorney Frederick South filed the complaint.

ROOF COLLAPSES; WORKMAN IS HURT

VISALIA, Sept. 20.—John Nichols, a laborer, suffered painful injuries about the scalp when a roof at the old Boots Ball building, of which he was working, collapsed and precipitated a shower of bricks upon him twelve feet below. He was removed to a local sanatorium, where severe stitches were required to close the wound in his scalp. He is not thought to be fatally injured.

GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, plasters, etc., are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism, but such treatment does not get rid of the disease, because it does not reach its source. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the nerves, muscles and joints, and produces the inflammation and swelling, and sharp cutting pains characteristic of the trouble. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and not only a painful but a dangerous disease. S. S. S., the greatest vegetable remedy, goes into the circulation, neutralizes and removes the uric acid, and by building up the thin, sour blood, safely and surely cures the disease. S. S. S. makes rich, nourishing blood, which quiets excited nerves, eases the painful muscles and joints and filters out every particle of irritating uric acid from the system. BUDGET SYSTEM

There is no question of the correctness of President Taft's position in demanding some sort of a "budget system" in recommending appropriations to Congress, but there is considerable doubt whether he or any one is likely soon to be able to get Congress to accept it. Congress is very jealous of its prerogative, even when the exercise of that prerogative destroys its own efficiency and costs the nation many millions of dollars in useless extravagance yearly. And when it was proposed, at the suggestion of the Commission on Economy and Efficiency that the heads of departments submit reports and facts to the President, so that he might submit a related and collated recommendation of fiscal policy, Congress promptly passed an act forbidding the making of such reports. The President now makes public a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Mac Veagh, in which he announces that he will get the reports and make the recommendations anyway. The next move is up to Congress.

It is doubtful if President Taft, with his clear intellect but dull imagination, himself realizes how radical and revolutionary is this proposal, which he has adopted from the Commission on Economy and Efficiency, and now backs with the full authority of the presidential office. The appointment of this commission, as everybody recognizes, is about the most creditable achievement of the Taft administration, and this recommendation, now thrown into controversy, is by far the most important proposal of that commission. The idea itself is not new. Every other civilized country in the world has had a "budget system" ever since it has had a responsible government at all. Professor E. D. Adams, now of Stanford University, read a paper on the subject before the American Political Science Association, at Washington, fully twenty-five years ago. Woodrow Wilson analyzed the incongruities of the American system, in the graduating thesis on which he took his Doctor's degree, which he afterwards expanded, nearly thirty years ago, into his book on "Congressional Government." Every intelligent critic of American administration, for a full generation, has adverted to the absurdity of raising and spending money, with no central body to relate expenditures to revenues, or to each other. And now the Commission on Economy and Efficiency has reduced the matter to a concrete practical suggestion, which President Taft backs even to the extent of defying Congress. But Congress stands firm, in defense of its own inefficiency, and it is doubtful if it will ever yield to anything short of the Big Stick.

Briefly, this is the difference between the American government and a civilized government, in the handling of its revenues and expenses:

In all civilized governments, as in all civilized private businesses, the probable or possible revenues of the year are first ascertained. Then the estimates of the various departments of probable expenses and needs are obtained and compared. If the total expenses estimated are greater than the total revenues, it is considered whether any of the expenses can be curtailed and any of the revenues increased. If economy is necessary, the expenditures are equitably distributed over the various departments. If certain expenses are imperative and there is no revenue to meet them, new revenues are provided. No appropriation is made without knowing where the money is to come from, and no taxes are levied without knowing that the money is needed and what will be done with it. This, we say, is the civilized method, adopted by all the other civilized nations, by all civilized private businesses, and even, in some degree, by every state, county, city, and school district government in America. The United States government is the only exception, in the civilized world. Also, it is probably the only institution in the world rich enough to omit the budget and still escape bankruptcy.

Contrast the American national system of uncivilized finance. Congress farms out its fiscal functions to certain unrelated committees. The Committee on Ways and Means proposes all laws for raising revenue. That committee does not know and has no means of finding out what the expenses of the government will be. It may be taxing the people to pile up a useless surplus, or it may be facing a disastrous deficit. The Committee on Appropriations proposes a part of the measures for spending money. It has no means of knowing how much there will be to spend, or how much will be asked for by the various other committees which also propose appropriations. At least a dozen other committees receive estimates and propose appropriations, each in its own sphere, without any definite knowledge of each other's activities. The various government departments make each its separate estimate, to its own committee. One department may be careful and another careless in its estimates. One committee may be liberal and another niggardly in its treatment of the estimates. Then all these proposals are submitted to Congress, each on its separate merits, without regard to their relation to each other or to the revenues. Congress could not reach an intelligent conclusion, even if it had time to give intelligent consideration. So the bills are all passed, without anybody's knowing what the business situation thereby produced will be. Congress simply trusts to luck, that things will come out even somehow, and sometimes they do.

This is the system—a system which is sure to produce nearly as much extravagance in a Congress of niggards as in a Congress of spendthrifts. The Democratic Congress, breaching economy, has rejected it, and forbidden the President to run the public business of business principles. The President, with his back up, says he will do so anyway. Probably Congress will refuse to consider his recommendations. Then both will go out of office, and the whole dispute will begin all over again. Meantime, we pay the bills.

But the alternative involves a startling and revolutionary increase in the functions of the Executive. The principal work of any government is the raising and spending of money. Whoever controls that is practically the government. In our government, who ever proposes that practically controls it, since there is no way of intelligently revising the proposals. Our fiscal administration is decentralized. The Efficiency Commission proposes to centralize it in the President. That will practically make the President the chief part of Congress. Which, for our part, we think would be a good thing. But we suspect that President Taft would shrink from it, if he realized what an enormous aggrandizement of the Executive office he is proposing.

BANKS AND RAISINS

One of the obstacles to securing subscriptions to the proposed raisin corporation, on a general basis of $10 an acre, is the fear of growers that at present prices they might not be able to pay their subscriptions when due. If the company were actually in operation, they could unquestionably do so, because its mere existence would raise prices enough to meet the subscriptions. But no individual grower, by subscribing, can guarantee the success of the company. All or most of the growers, acting together, could easily do so. And if there were some way to remove this obstacle, they would probably do so. One method suggested has been that the banks should adopt a liberal policy of financing growers for this purpose. Now this could be worked out we are not sure, but if it is feasible it would certainly be of more than enough profit to the banks to justify it. Any grower, with more favorable weather conditions starting talk of larger crops, and thereby temporarily assisting in the bear market's campaign. It is eminently fitting that those whose interest is in the real prosperity of the community, and not merely in gambling for margins up or down, should betwixt themselves of means for improving the situation.

BAD REPORTING?

"Kings county people who have recently returned from Los Angeles report that the Roosevelt parade in that city was a very slim affair and nothing like reported in the Bull Moose press dispatches. One man said that little attention was paid to the arrival of the candidate, but that the crowd on the street and along the line of parade was just about the same as is seen every day. Why cannot the news dispatches tell the truth about such affairs? We'd like to know"—Hansford Sentinel.

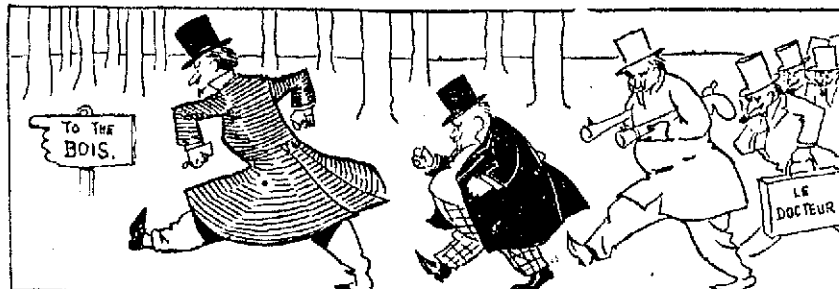

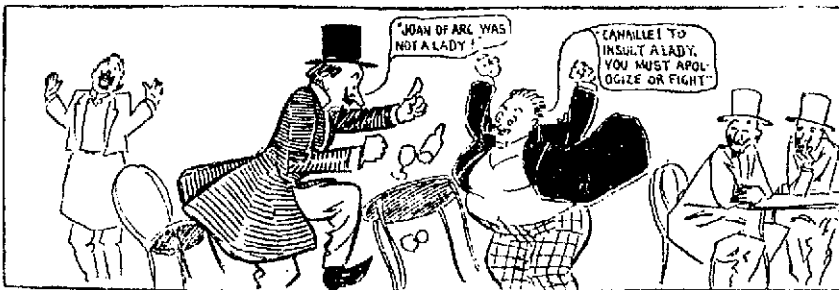

The "returned Kings county people" must have consisted of the Sentinel's exchange copy of the Los Angeles Times. No one else has made such statements, and the Times was so stupid as to lie about a thing of which a couple of hundred thousand people knew the truth by their own personal observations. The "Bull Moose press dispatches" were the regular Associated Press dispatches, which no one has accused of unfair bias in favor of Roosevelt. The writer was in the Los Angeles parade, and saw it all, from start to finish. He has also been in most of the similar events in Los Angeles—two previous receptions to Roosevelt, (one when he was President) and the reception to President Taft last year. This surpassed, in the size of the crowds and the spirit of enthusiasm, anything that had ever happened in Los Angeles, or in California, before. Instead of the crowd being "just about the same as is seen every day," the crowd was so great that the police, who had not prepared for so great an outpouring, found themselves utterly unable to handle it. Instead of "little attention" being paid to Roosevelt's arrival, the whole town was out and shouting. The two meetings, held in the two biggest halls in Los Angeles, were the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in Los Angeles, and many times more persons were outside trying to get in than succeeded in getting in. More than fifteen thousand persons attended the two meetings, at least fifty thousand tried to get in, and three or four times that number crowded the streets. All this is a matter of personal observation. Next time the Sentinel had better not confuse the Los Angeles Times with reputable Kings county residents. They might not like it.

Even the Democrats are now going on the ballot by petition. "Everybody's doing it,"—unless it is the Taft Republican; and if they do not do it, it will be because they do not wish to be on the ballot.

BULLETIN OF MEETINGS AND LECTURES AT THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Sept. 20.—The men who administer the towns and cities of California will spend a week in conference at the University of California at the Annual Convention of the League of California Municipalities, from Monday to Saturday, September 23 to 28. There will be discussion of how to build streets, sewers, parks, and public buildings, of how to promote economy and efficiency in public affairs, of how to make a town healthier, safer, more beautiful, and continually a better place to live.

The councilmen, city engineers, and superintendents of streets from the 214 California towns represented will meet daily from 9 to 12, while at the same hours the city clerks and auditors will confer on city accounting methods. There will be general assemblies every afternoon and a series of evening meetings with addresses by Judge Clayton Herrington of the bureau of investigation of the United States Customs Service, on the white slave traffic; by Professor Robert Sibley, on notable recent engineering achievements; and by Professor M. E. Jaffa, on pure food and the public health.

The third annual conference of state, county and municipal health officers will be held at the university during the same days—September 23 to 28th. Among the speakers on how towns may keep their people from becoming sick will be Dr. George F. Reinhardt, professor of hygiene in the university, Dr. Wilbur A. Sawyer, director of state hygiene laboratory at the university, and Dr. Thomas J. McElroy, president of the California Association of Medical Milk Commissioners, who is seeking to bring it about that the public shall protect itself from contracting tuberculosis by refraining from drinking milk from tubercular cows and by eating no butter which has not been made safe by pasteurizing of the cream before churning.

FARM SCHOOL

The young men who are taking the three-year course for the training of unskilled farmers, at the University Farm at Davis, will resume work on Monday, September 23. Sixteen is the minimum age. Students who have had a grammar school course, or, preferably, a year or two in high school, and at least a year of practical work on a farm, can profit more than young men not so prepared. During the first two years the students study farm mechanics, carpentry, fence work, drawing, botany, chemistry, English, mathematics, hygiene, home science, public health, physics, forestry practice and animal industry, including stock, poultry, dairy, and swine raising. During the third year all receive instruction in farm accounting, civics, economics, farm machinery, irrigation, and surveying, and special training, either on the study of horticulture, viticulture, and farm crops, or, if preferred, in animal industry—milk production, stock management, feeding, breeding, and veterinary science. The University Farm has 750 acres of rich land, thirteen miles west of Sacramento, a fine herd of Jersey cows, sheep, swine, and a large number of sheep, hogs, and horses. A complete well equipped for milking butter and cheese, a modern dairy, an extensive poultry plant, dormitories, laboratories, a swimming pool, and a wide variety of orchards, vineyards, and field crops. The "Farmers' Night Course" for from two to seven weeks planned for practical farmers and their wives or daughters, are in progress at the University Farm from September 23 to November 2.

GIFTS TO LIBRARY

A rich collection of 115 volumes in Spanish and Portuguese, together with works in architecture, painting and music, with valuable works of celebrated Spanish composers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, has just been placed in the University Library, through the generosity of J. C. Cebrian. The gift includes a score of old volumes of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, five sixteenth century books, two incunabula, two works of the seventh century, of the time of the Gothic kingdom in Spain, a fine copy of the first Dutch Bible, of the seventeenth century, and a beautiful Italian manuscript of the thirteenth century—Benedictine Romanum on very fine parchment of over 400 leaves, written in three colors.

Among other recent gifts are money given by Regent Phoebe A. Hearst toward the architectural work of the University, for scholarships, for road construction, and for additional apparatus for the country's gymnasium. Hearst Hall, money given by Levi Strauss and Company for the Levi Strauss Scholarships, supported by these generous donors at a cost of $3,500 per annum; and a collection of shells given by Mrs. Maria S. Drake of Los Angeles, of much value in studying the history of development of species.

The most ancient plant life as yet discovered anywhere in the world has been found in Western Ontario, by Professor Lawson, head of the Department of Geology. These plants were related to the conifers.

The women students have started a movement to raise an "Emergency Fund" to be available for loans to women students who are earning their own college expenses, but who find themselves in temporary straits.

HEALTH LECTURES
Preventive medicine, hygiene, and public health will be the subject of a series of lectures, open to the general public, to be given at 2 o'clock every Friday at the Medical Department of the University, at the University of California Hospital on Parnassus avenue, San Francisco. The series, which will include a course of five lectures, will be given by Dr. Richard C. Cabot of the Harvard Medical School, in Boston. He directed the establishment of an efficient national public health department at Washington, physical examination and accurate medical care for every child in the public schools, more attention to industrial hygiene and occupational diseases, and development by which the public hospitals shall more and more care for the general public health.

In the open-air Greek theatre the students are to give on October 5 "The Cenci," a comic opera, composed by Walter De Leon, an alumnus of 1906 the United States Marine Band from Washington, is to give two concerts on October 13 and 14. English Club on October 15 is to work a play by Alfred Noyes, "The English poor: Sheperd or Robin Hood and the Three Men."

The Earl lectures, supported by an endowment of $5000 given to the Pacific Theological Seminary by Mr. Edwin E. Earl of Los Angeles, will be given in Berkeley this month by Dr. Arthur C. McElroy, professor of Church History in Union Theological Seminary of New York. His subject is "The Place of Modern Religious Ideas." As a State University the University of California has no theological department. Several denominations, however, including the Congregationalists, Baptists, Christians, and Unitarians, have established independent theological seminaries in Berkeley which devote their strength and resources wholly to doctrinal and strictly theological training, while their students attend the University for instruction in Greek, Latin, Hebrew, modern languages, history, philosophy, economics, sociological subjects, etc.

SEWARD IS ABSENT
T. C. Seward was absent from the meeting of the central body last night, and it was stated that he had gone to San Francisco to attend a two day session of the executive board of the State Federation of Labor, of which he is vice president from the second annual meeting. The meeting will be held in the city hall and continue until tomorrow night, when Seward returns to Fresno. Recently, he was elected secretary of the Cooks and Waiters' Union of this city and also delegate to the Labor Council. He has not presented his credentials, however, but attended the meeting as a spectator. He was granted the use of the floor by permission of the delegates and as a result of this favor he took the opportunity to attack Lamoreux.

THREATENS COMMITTEE
C. A. Gray, one of the delegates from the Cooks and Waiters' Union, appeared at the meeting last night with a threat to sue the members of the Labor Law committee for wages at least to be due for his services as Seward at the big barbers at 1004 E. Broadway, September 19, 1912, and in a bill for $50 and J. C. Gray, also a delegate to the council, filed a bill for a like amount. Chairman Vickers and Secretary Lamoreux of the Labor Law committee declared the bills to be excessive and allowed a claim of $25 each against the treasury. Gray and Gray refused to accept this amount and repeated their demands for $50. Gray made a speech last night and inserted his threat to sue the committee unless the bills were paid immediately.

ENDORSE FREE MARKET
T. W. Baker, president of the council, introduced the subject of a free market, which was advocated nearly a year ago by delegates to the central body. Many, however, and members of the trustees and board of supervisors are opposed for their efforts in creating a free market, to be opened to the public at the end of the month. After a speech on the subject by President Baker and a discussion by delegates, the following resolution was drawn up and adopted by unanimous vote:

Whereas, public markets are progressive features of all enterprising cities and an accommodation to the buying public;

And whereas, the untiring efforts of our mayor to institute public markets in our city have terminated with success;

Therefore, be it resolved, that the Fresno Labor Council in regular session, held this 20th day of September, 1912, do hereby extend its hearty appreciation for the untiring efforts of Mayor T. W. Baker, the board of supervisors and the board of city trustees.

RAY W. BAKER, President.
P. P. Lamoreux, Secretary.

POST IRIGATION BONDS
As a result of the call to the council by A. L. Howell, editor of the Madera Post, President Baker appointed a committee of three to investigate the merits of the proposed bonds.

SEWARD CENSURED BY DELEGATES TO LABOR COUNCIL

A. F. of L. Is Asked to Cancel Credentials of Local Organizer

Free Market Is Endorsed; Central Body Holds Lively Session

Delegates to the Fresno Labor Council last night went on record as opposed to the actions of T. C. Seward in making a verbal attack upon P. P. Lamoreux, secretary and business manager of the central body and editor of the Labor News. By unanimous vote a resolution was adopted denouncing Seward as a person disturbing at the meetings of the council and declaring that in the future the council will refuse to recognize any authority from him. The resolution further states that Seward threatened the council with dire consequences unless his demands were granted, and requests the secretary to inform the American Federation of Labor of the alleged wrong done Seward and now has been making of his conduct a political issue.

The verbal attack on Lamoreux was made at the meeting of the Labor Council a week ago last night, when Seward appeared on the floor of the meeting after an absence of several months. The organizer and second vice president of the American Federation of Labor challenged Lamoreux's right to hold an office in the council, though the election was held eight months ago. Following is the text of the resolution as adopted by unanimous vote last night:

ADPT RESOLUTIONS
Whereas, on the meeting night of Friday, September 13, 1912, T. C. Seward, secretary of the Cooks and Waiters' Union, entered the Fresno Labor Council and disturbed the peace and harmony of the session by making an attack on a regularly elected officer of the council, claiming the right to do so as an organizer for the American Federation of Labor, and supported his claim by producing certain "voluntary" credentials; and further threatened the council with dire consequences unless his demands were acceded to; therefore be it Resolved by the Fresno Labor Council, that we positively refuse to recognize any authority whatever of the said T. C. Seward; and be it further resolved that this council inform the American Federation of Labor of the conduct of T. C. Seward and now has been making of the above mentioned "voluntary" credentials; and request that body to cancel the same for the good of the labor movement in this country.

HISTORY OF CASE
Lamoreux is awaiting trial on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Seward last Saturday following the publication of a story in which Seward was called a deposed labor leader and self-confessed labor grafter. Monday night, the county Building Trades Council passed a resolution by unanimous vote endorsing Seward and pledging the moral support of the delegates and affiliated unions to Lamoreux. Two years ago, Seward was secretary and business agent of the Building Trades, but was defeated for reelection by T. C. Vickers, the incumbent. Seward also held the position in the Building Trades, now known as the Labor Council, but Vickers again defeated him. Last January, Lamoreux was elected to succeed Vickers, who still holds office in the Building Trades.

Seward was absent from the meeting of the central body last night, and it was stated that he had gone to San Francisco to attend a two day session of the executive board of the State Federation of Labor, of which he is vice president from the second annual meeting. POST IRIGATION BONDS
As a result of the call to the council by A. L. Howell, editor of the Madera Post, President Baker appointed a committee of three to investigate the merits of the proposed bonds.

His of senate constitutional amendment No. 7, which relates to the sale of bonds by an irrigation district. Howell spoke before the delegates a week ago last night and invited the members to investigate. The following favorable report was rendered by the committee: "To the Fresno Labor Council: Your committee selected to investigate Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 7, pertaining to irrigation district bonds, desires to report that we recommend that the council and all affiliated unions support the measure at the November election."

P. P. Lamoreux, PAUL FOULIE, J. M. RODRIGUES.

CONVENTION DELEGATES
It was announced that the following had been elected to delegates from Fresno to the coming convention at San Diego of the State Federation of Labor: Ray W. Baker and P. P. Lamoreux from the Labor Council, R. W. McKnight and L. M. Simons from the Carpenters' Union No. 701, Al Bartlett from the Painters No. 54, Th. Greenwood from the Electrical Workers No. 100, Henry Gomts from the Barbers No. 556, and Don Hodge from the Bakers No. 43. The convention will open October 7 and continue for a week.

W. E. Duty was admitted last night as a delegate from the Bakers' Union. Duty stated that Don Hodge, secretary of his local, will represent the bakers at the San Diego convention. Delegates from the Pressmen's Union declared that their fight against the Hearst newspapers is still in effect as a result of the strike in Chicago last summer.

BUTTONS ARE ORDERED
Charles Gray, a delegate from the Cooks and Waiters' Union, stated that his local had voted to adopt union buttons of their own and to discontinue the use of official monthly buttons from the Labor Council. The convention committee announced that it had ordered printed several hundred buttons and plans to be in the city for the convention next month. These buttons will be made to boost Fresno as the convention city for 1913. Each button shows a photograph of the Powell auditorium at Kern and L streets and a small pennant is attached. All local delegates will wear the badge and distribute them at the San Diego convention.

MADDER JOINS B. T. C.
Delegates from the Plumbers' Union announced that their local had voted to hold weekly meetings instead of semi-monthly sessions. J. W. Gorrell of the Plumbers' Union stated that his local had taken a vote on the proposition to join the central body and by-laws of the international union, W. A. Section, international organizer of the Carpenters' Union, appeared at the meeting at a late hour with the announcement that he had just returned from Madera, where a Carpenters' Local had been formed and three delegates elected to the Fresno Building Trades' Council. These delegates will attend Monday night at the weekly session. Recently, the Madera carpenters voted unanimously to affiliate with the local B. T. C., which now has jurisdiction over the unions of Lamoreux, Hanford, Tulare, Coalinga and Madera.

FRESNO HIGH SCHOOL SENATORS NOMINATE
Hopkins and Wooster Sole Aspirants for President and Secretary

George Hopkins was the sole nominee for president of the Fresno High School Senate at the initial meeting of the senate held last evening. Over twenty-five active and many honorary members of the senate took part in the night's session when the nominations were made for officers who will serve during the next ten weeks. Election will be held next Friday evening at the senate rooms in the high school.

A number of clever nomination speeches were made by the senators and the following names were proposed for the officers:

President, Hopkins of Iowa, vice-president, Gede of Wisconsin, Dunne of Arkansas; secretary, Wooster of New Jersey; treasurer, Bolton of Kentucky; Byrd of Utah; sergeant-at-arms, Darling of New York; Ferguson of Nevada; Hanford, Byrd of Utah; Clayton of Mississippi; Toland of Maryland; Brooks of Wyoming; Moore of Indiana; Shipp of New Hampshire; Mills of Massachusetts; Austin of Florida; Bonner of Ohio.

Of these officers George Hopkins, nominated for president, and Earl Wooster, nominated for secretary, will probably be elected by a wide margin next week, having no opponents.

The meeting being the first of the year before affairs were well organized and very disorderly and heavy fines were levied, some as high as $5. Hopkins of Iowa and Gede of Wisconsin both occupied the chair during the evening. Life of Oregon was at the secretary's desk.

Quotations from William Jennings Bryan will be given in answer to the roll call of the next meeting.

George H. Huntington, dean of Junior College, whose popularity with the boys remains at a high pitch, was re-elected as President of the United States.

Among the senators present at the meeting were Dunne of Arkansas, East of North Dakota, Kemper of Georgia, Moore of Indiana, Prescott of Kansas, Shipp of New Hampshire, Clayton of Mississippi, Austin of Florida, Ferguson of Nevada, Hanford, Byrd of Utah, Toland of Maryland, Brooks of Wyoming, Moore of Indiana, Shipp of New Hampshire, Mills of Massachusetts, Austin of Florida, Bonner of Ohio.

BRYAN ADDRESSES BUTTE AUDIENCE

Leaves for Idaho After Urging Election of Democratic Senator

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 20.—William Jennings Bryan closed tonight his campaign trip through Montana at a large meeting in a local theater. The city from Butte, where he spoke this afternoon, to Butte was interrupted by platform speeches at every stop. Bryan will leave tomorrow for a visit to Idaho.

An enthusiastic crowd heard Bryan tonight plead for the election of a Democratic Senator, as well as the national ticket of that party, so that Democratic policies and pledges might be made effective.

He vigorously criticized the Republican national convention and that of the Progressives.

Bryan throughout his campaigning trip through Montana has repeatedly attacked the stand of Colonel Roosevelt on the trust question. Referring to Colonel Roosevelt, he said:

"I say to you with deliberation and with emphasis that no man in the history of this nation has ever taken a position on the trust question so hostile to the safety and welfare of the American people."

"He says in his platform and in his speeches that we ought not to try to prevent monopolies, but we should just control them. I remind you that for seven and one-half years he was President and he not only did not control the trusts, but the trusts controlled him. I remind you that while he was President the steel trust went to him, and while a panic was on, threatened and terrorized him into consenting to the absorption of its largest rival."

"When he went out of office there were vastly more trusts than when he went in. The steel trust that was organized in 1901 with $500,000,000 of capital in its stock, has stayed there and he never has raised his hand to

OWNER OF FIVE MILLIONS TO BECOME CHINESE MISSIONARY

CHICAGO, Sept. 20.—William Whiting Borden, son of the late William Borden and Mrs. Mary Borden, whose share of the father's estate is said to be $5,000,000, is to become a foreign missionary and will begin his life's work at Kuanai, China, as soon as his preparatory studies are completed. Tomorrow night he will be ordained a foreign missionary by the Island Missionary society at a local church.

Borden graduated from Yale University in 1909 and last spring finished a course at the Princeton theological seminary. Several years ago he gave $50,000 to found a students mission. The sister Mary was a missionary in India for many years.

"squeeze the water out, nor said one word to protect the people from the exactions of that great monster. Now he is in favor of the national incorporation of these great industries, the very thing that Mr. Perkins has been advocating for many years and that Mr. Archibald has been advocating for many years."

Mr. Roosevelt stands today for the very doctrines that the trusts have been demanding, viz: That they shall be rid of the state regulation and relieved from the embarrassment of legislative action. Mr. Roosevelt wants to center the power at Washington. After admitting that the trust is here to stay, he will allow it to go on, to spread and grow and he would strike down the power of the state to control it, and he would take from Congress and the courts the power and put it in a bureau to be appointed by the President.

"I cannot understand how honest and well meaning men, who have no interest whatever in these private monopolies, I cannot understand how they can see Mr. Perkins, a director of the steel trust and manager of the Harvester trust, the chief contributor to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign and the advisor he most relies upon; how you can see him direct this campaign and not understand that the trusts and there if Mr. Roosevelt were taking the people's side on this trust question."

ENGLAND YIELDS TO STARVING SUFFRAGET

Mrs. Mary Leigh Is Released From Prison in Ireland

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Mary Leigh, the suffraget, was released from Mount Joy today on account of ill health due to her refusal to eat and having to be fed forcibly.

Mrs. Leigh was sentenced August 15 to five years' imprisonment on a charge of having wounded John Redmond, leader of the Irish parliamentary party, with a hatchet which she threw at Premier Asquith's carriage during the visit of Asquith to Dublin.

Shortly after her incarceration, Mrs. Leigh announced her determination to refuse to partake of food and the prison officials resorted to the drastic measure of administering nourishment through a tube.

When Mrs. Leigh was brought outside the prison hospital in an invalid's chair, she was in an emaciated condition.

According to a suffrage journal, her condition was becoming desperate.

Although Mrs. Leigh was released "on license," the official notice of her discharge simply says the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland ordered it so that she might be removed to a hospital for treatment.

The woman was taken in charge by friends and immediately visited a hospital. There she went to a private house in Dublin, where she now is. Her release from prison was ordered after a medical examination today and possibly amounts to an unconditional discharge.

CHARACTER WITNESSES FOR ACCUSED NUN

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 20.—Bitter denunciation by Attorney Kane of what he termed the efforts of the plaintiffs' attorney to prevent the introduction of evidence to show the character of Sister Aloysius, the nun charged with the murder of Marie Riegan, was one of the features of the trial today in the $40,000 damage suit of Mrs. Magnusson against the Visitation Academy and officials of the Roman Catholic diocese for the alleged abduction and alienation of Marie Riegan while a pupil at the academy.

Attorney Kelly for the plaintiff objected that the mere opinion of personal friends was not material.

Dr. J. H. Sheets, who testified he had known Miss Agnes McHugh (now Sister Aloysius) and her family for twenty-three years, was called as a character witness.

The testimony which the defense sought to refute was to the effect that Sister Aloysius had, while Marie Riegan was an inmate of the Visitation Academy, manifested her affection for the girl in an improper manner.

BLOODHOUNDS PURSUE FLEEING INCENDIARISTS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 20.—Scores of soldiers with bloodhounds are searching the mountains at the head of Carbon Creek today for the men who last midnight tried to fire the tipple of the South Carbon Coal company and the residence of Charles Cable, superintendent of the mine.

These attempts at incendiarism were the most daring since the strike was begun.

The military forces were reinforced this morning by a company of infantry.

Private Charles Campbell was shot by mistake last night by a party at Cherokee, W. Va., is expected to recover.

MISSING PAPERS FOUND WHERE HIDDEN BY MRS. H. P. GRAY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—More missing papers drawn from the Indian bureau files by Mrs. Helen Pierce Gray, the investigator of Crow Indian affairs, arrested here yesterday on a charge of concealing public records, were found at the Department of Justice and other places tonight by Attorney Wright, acting for the attorney-general.

The papers related to a variety of official business concerning other tribes than the Crow. Practically all the papers withdrawn from the official archives by Mrs. Gray have been accounted for.

THE CALL OF KANSAS

Kansas is looking for college men to help save the big wheat crop—Daily paper.

Just before the harvest season, when the weather is hot and dry, here's a chance to take the crop out of the hands of the farmers. Men of learning, Kansas calls!

Art, philosophy and science are less mighty than the soil. In its strenuous appliance, where the wheat and golden ball, the sun and the stars are moving, the every wheat stalk falls, keep the nation's mills a going—Men of learning, Kansas calls!

Old Theocritus smiles sweetly. Somewhere in the Olympian dome—Nods to Juvenal, who neatly turns the "cases" of ancient Rome. Pan upon his pipe is playing. With a rapture that enraptures, Oh, there's no time for delaying. Men of learning, Kansas calls!

Harken to the call of Ceres. Loud enough to beat the band; Hark! sweet the atmosphere is. In this rooming Western hotel, Shall the message fall unheeded. In the gay college halls, Drawn back up to be brain is needed—Men of learning, Kansas calls!

With this in view, the City Engineer, Mr. J. J. O'Leary, Austin T. Leary, Jr., and Harry J. Leary, one of his sons, went out to the District School of Industrial Arts to obtain his name. Harry Leary was born in Wellingham, New Hampshire, and his father, John Leary, is a retired minister of the Gospel.

He and two other youths, one of whom escaped the authorities after a short chase in the morning after the shooting, were seen by the Traction Dept. on the night of July 19th and early in the morning of July 20th, especially marked cars which showed in its headlights, and then on the defendant's car, with the aid of the witnesses concerning the photographs and in court testimony. It stated they did not know the present whereabouts of the defendant, but failing to be in ignorance whether they are near together or apart.

Policeman Walter W. Jones of the local additions to the force was directed for duty yesterday morning for the opening of the market at 9 o'clock this morning on the Foster street side of the south-east corner of Market street, and on this experiment of the day until the noon hour. When called several coppers to place in the stand in the corner, a crowd, starting at the market, broke up the line, and taking the 20 feet square space and taking the park stands. Then the market is established, a crowd of about 100 persons, and the stand has been well changed. The market is present there will be no more than the sale of various kinds of produce may. Very much interest is manifested in the opening of the market, except opening this morning.

In response to formal letter of inquiry mailed on Wednesday, reply was received from President Eder of the Wards Club, a local company, attesting its readiness to resurface the asphalt paving on three blocks on Morrell street from H to K. Work on this resurfacing will be commenced within a fortnight.

This resurfacing has been delayed for about two years because the city contemplated putting in a surface of concrete, but the Mayor, in view of the natural drain of the surface. This plan has for the present been abandoned. The Morrell street paving never was considered a finished job, and the city has been long contented by the mixture and being it was. The present surface will be resurfaced to the depth of two inches and new asphalt wearing surface laid down.

In this connection, City Engineer

R. H. Stephenson, aged 47, and Minnie L. Klapp, aged 46, both of Fresno.

One of the most important announcements of the current theatrical season is the coming of J. Lee Hackett to the Burton next Wednesday evening, in his latest starring vehicle, "The Grain Is Must," a play in four acts, laid in New York City, and dramatized from the novel of the late David Graham Phillips, he took Evan Ross as his collaborator.

Frederick Norman is the dominating personality in a great firm of corporation lawyers. Strong, forceful, arrogant, he is feared in the business world. By chance he is thrown in contact with a timid, shrinking, pale little stenographer who is coming in him to dictate his letters. He is completely thrilled. In subsequent sessions he is quite as much mystified and charmed by her multiple personalities. The little grain of dust in the giant's eye is causing a row. Results: He starts her aged father in business and by this means endeavors to make love to her. But she repulses him. His engagement to a prominent society girl is broken. He neglects business so much his partners put him out of the firm. He goes to jail, and, after being refused a loan, drowns, a great shame for him. Then he meets her again. Her father is dead, she is alone. Once more he proposes and, this time is accepted. He gets on his feet. Again he is the giant with the world behind him. The story deals unlike anything in the later day fiction with the life of a poor man. Melville's engagement opens next Monday morning at 8 o'clock.

HIGHWAYMAN HELD TO SUPERIOR COURT

Roy Lamay Denies Charge Before He Is Accused of Holdup

Mannger Wolfe introduced to the throngs at Teal's theater last night the cleverest aggregation of colored performers seen here in many a day. The company, while not large in numbers, lacked nothing in versatility as entertainers and kept the immense crowd in a happy and enthusiastic mood of mind from the rise to the fall of the curtain.

The show opens with two reels of excellent pictures and the music of the Teal orchestra, under the leadership of Joe Hyman, came in for round and applause.

The Jubilee Players open their show with a minstrel first part. George Washington, as principal comedian, is a scream, and his two songs "Beans and Beans" and "The Undertaker Man" proved a riot; the quartet was especially good. Coy Herndon, the hump roller, is a marvel and took success after encore for his efforts; Washington and Polk in their singing act, a grand finale, the show takes in the whole lot, far superior to many of the 11 colored shows.

This afternoon there will be a special matinee for the ladies and children, and tonight will be the farewell performance of the attraction; Sunday matinee will see the opening of the Eltte Musical Comedy Company, that will arrive Sunday morning from Denver for their engagement. The show is considered the strongest musical comedy company ever brought west to play at popular prices, and they are the only one for south points to record business. Fresno is musical comedy wild and it has been a long time since they have had a real girl show, especially of the Eltte kind, as the Denver papers praise the show to the skies as the best ever seen there at popular prices.

Buys a Lot Worth $50.00 or More in
DEL MONTE HEIGHTS

A Most Astonishing Offer!

You will have to hurry if you want any of these lots. They are valuable lots right now and it is only because we are desirous of raising money on them to be used in making improvements which will again enhance their value that we are selling them at this low figure. Thousands of lots have been sold this summer that do not possess half the merit that these lots do and the prices realized were $300 and $400 each. There is but a limited number to be sold at this price. When they are all gone the price will be raised to the neighborhood of $100. Where can you find such a splendid investment as this?

Own Your Own Summer Home on the Coast

A better place for a summer home can not be imagined. At a good elevation, yet on land that seems to be level because of the gradual slope of it, it gives a splendid marine view and a view of the beautiful pine clad hills of Carmel. There is no prettier nor more inspiring view along the entire coast. The climate is cool and equable throughout the entire year with that invigorating quality that means perfect health. A school, church, stores, railroad station, and electric line add greatly to the attractiveness of Del Monte Heights.

Never Again Such an Opportunity to Buy Lots With an Unsurpassed View at Such a Ridiculous Outlay.

You will never again have such an opportunity to buy lots at such a low price. Never again will lots so ideally situated be sold as these are being sold. The people of Monterey are buying these lots eagerly. They know their value and know that they are making a splendid investment. There are many reasons why these lots will advance in value. After this sale none will be sold by us for less than $100.00. With our offer to buy them back at 10 per cent more than they cost you, you are protected against any loss. It is the most certain investment you have ever heard of; you are certain to gain.

The New Breakwater and the Extension of the Electric Railroad Will Make Prices Advance Rapidly.

Monterey is bound to become a great city. $800,000.00 are being spent in constructing a breakwater that will make this a great port and a most important shipping center. A railroad is certain to be built into the San Joaquin valley from Monterey and will come direct to Fresno. We have inside information that the Monterey and Del Monte Heights railroad, perhaps under another name, is to be extended to Salinas during 1913. There is a strong probability that it will be continued to Fresno. This will have a great influence on lots in Del Monte Heights. Lots you buy are certain to benefit greatly.

We Will Give You $16.50 For Your $15 Lot

Our Re-Purchase Contract Protects You

We promise, in writing, to buy back at the expiration of one year all lots at an increase of 10 per cent over what you pay now. In other words, we will give you $16.50 at the end of a year for the lot you pay $15 for now.

California Oil

KNIGHTS FERRY OIL EXCITEMENT REVIVED

The Binder Ranch Is Purchased by San Francisco Oil Men

OAKDALE, Sept. 20. — The oil excitement is about to be revived at Knights Ferry, after several months of intense quiet. The Binder place, a half mile west of the Ferry has been sold to parties from San Francisco. The agent who purchased the property would not state for whom he was making the purchase, nor would he state what he proposed to do with it. He thinks the formation is so good that "All I care for is the little house and the well." Since this is the well in which the oil was discovered about a year ago, it is inferred that it is the oil that is interesting the purchasers.

By way of explanation it may be well to state that about a year ago when a well was being drilled for water on the place above mentioned, oil was discovered, which created much excitement throughout the county, and that have prompted several tracts of land were bought by Modesto men headed by Sheriff Dingley. However, the lands were allowed to expire and no development work done. The matter has quieted down until there was an oil excitement at Knights Ferry.

It is thought that representatives from some of the old oil companies have been watching the tunnel work on the ditches of the Oakdale Irrigation District, and that they have found prospects that have prompted them to encourage the purchase of Knights Ferry land for the oil prospecting.

The fact that the above sale has been kept quiet and that the purchase has been made under somewhat peculiar circumstances, seems to argue that there is something in the rumor. It is reported by Knights Ferry people that some remarkably fine surface indications have been uncovered in the ditches of the Irrigation District now being constructed in that neighborhood. Though these surface indications and streaks of oil sand that have been found may be no indication of the presence of oil under the surface in large quantities, yet in all the large oil fields these surface indications have always borne certain and sure relation with the presence of oil in quantity at some depth under the surface.

Outcroppings of oil sand can be found in abandoned pits of the early gold prospectors along the banks of the river south of the Ferry. These data of oil sand are at least three inches thick in places.

BRIEF OIL NOTES FROM MCKITTRICK

MCKITTRICK, Sept. 20. — The Mainwell Minor Oil Company operating on section 35, 27-28, has just spudded in well No. 2 and is erecting two 2600-barrel storage tanks.

The Associated Oil Company is nearly ready to bring in a well on section 20, 31-23, which is down 1275 feet. The gas pressure has been throwing water over the derrick.

The Dominion Belridge Oil Company, operating on section 9, 28-29, is down 600 feet with well No. 1.

MIDWAY FIELDS IS NOW SURE OF FLOW

No. 1 Well Makes Better Showing
Each Time After Sanding; Test
27.4 of Light Gravity Oil

TAFI, Sept. 20. — Superintendent Dave Kinney of the Midway Fields Oil Company on section 4, 11-23, believes he has his No. 1 well on the flowing list to stay now, for it has flowed under perfect control for the past twenty-four hours. The well came in more than a month ago, and has since been the wonder of the fields because of the oil being almost a light as distillate. It tests 27.4 gravity. Since being brought in it has sanded up four times but each time after being cleaned out it made a better showing. It is now flowing 5,000 barrels per day through an inch pipe with the pressure well conserved.

The No. 1 well of the W. T. M. Oil Company, on section 25, 32-23, is down 1300 feet with rapid progress being made. The company with Ed Gillette, in charge as superintendent, has six producers on the lease.

On section 26, 32-23, the No. 1 well has reached a depth of 650 feet. There are nine other wells on the lease, all active producers.

The California Counties Oil Company is now connected up for electricity, which is to be used both for pumping and lighting in the near future. The wiring has been completed in the rigs and bunk house by the United Electric Company.

The Chandler Oil Company Oil Company has completed off top water at a depth of 2512 feet in its No. 10 well on section 31, 31-23. Two and one-half tons of cement were forced through the 6 5/8-inch casing by W. F. Scott, the cementer of Tafi.

Much interest is being shown on the West Coast in the preparatory plans for the installation of a 6-ton air compressor which is soon to be installed by Superintendent Ed Gillette on the W. T. M. lease on section 25, 32-23. The compressor will be used to overcome water which has been apparent in the company's six producing wells.

The Chandler pump has been used to overcome the water. It being found successful as far as the water is concerned. Other than that, the wells sand up often and wear out many pumps, which makes the plunger method exceedingly expensive. With the installation of the compressor the work of cleaning out the wells will be much simplified while the necessity of pulling the wells is almost entirely overcome.

Air compressors of this type have been installed on the Mascot Lease by Superintendent Jennings where they are found to be working successfully.

The Chandler Oil Company is also contemplating installing a compressor.

BRIEF OIL NEWS OF COALINGA FIELD

COALINGA, Sept. 20. — A special meeting of the stockholders of the El Cerrito Oil Company called to meet on September 17th at San Mateo, for the purpose of voluntarily dissolving the corporation. The company was organized as the Anderson Oil Company in March, 1907. The late J. R. Turner, of the Taven Oil Company, became interested and organized the El Cerrito Oil Company on July 28th, 1907. A 4,000-foot well was drilled on section 14, 23-17, without favorable results. The company moved a greater portion of its movable property to the Sunset District, a hole was drilled but they failed to secure oil in paying quantities. Thus a pioneer is laid to rest.

The Berkeley-Coalinga Oil Company, section 2, 21-14, with well No. 4, has been finished up at 320 feet with 8-inch line pipe, the well is producing twenty-five barrels per day by a guage test, about twenty-one gravity oil. The company has eight wells hooked up to the power plant, one well being cleaned out will soon be on the pump. The power plant is a great success, pumping the wells with a very even and steady stroke.

In the development of the oil field it is interesting to note the auto truck heavily loaded with hay and grain for some company in the field, sliding along over the road with the heavy load, often followed out of town by an eight-animal team loaded with gasoline and kerosene for some other company, each animal up on the collar tugging away faithfully at his task.

The Pluto Oil Company, section 19, 25-33, Davis Don District, with well No. 1 is 3,150 feet deep, using 6 1/4-inch casing. Formation has been hard shell interspersed with layers of sand. The shell is exceedingly hard, at present a change in the formation, softening up. The gas pressure is very strong. Tom Whaley, manager, reports that the bit is within fifty feet of pay sand.

The Associated Oil Company, section 8, 21-15, with well now drilling, is a little over 600 feet deep, have landed the 15 1/4-inch stovepipe casing. The drillers are through the boulders in the formation. The 12 1/4-inch casing is being put in.

The United Development Company, on section 17, 20-15, with well No. 2, is rigged up ready to spud in, the drillers are now on well No. 1, drilling out the cement, and will finish up this well before spudding in well No. 2.

The White Creek Oil Company, section 2, 21-14, completed the No. 1 last week in the northwest corner of the section, and will spud in this week.

GOVERNMENT HAS ALL ITS EVIDENCE

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 20. — The government has taken evidence against the Southern Pacific Company in the Elk Hills controversy, according to William N. Mills, the representative of the attorney general in charge of the case. The Bakersfield hearing ended the government's evidence presentation before Special Commissioner Leo Longley, but certain phases of the evidence will be reserved for introduction in rebuttal.

The government had until October 1st to complete the direct case but time was gained by the operation of a stipulation providing for the submission of a large quantity of documentary evidence, most of which constitutes a portion of the records of the Vienna land office, with a large number of mineral locations on file in this city. The Southern Pacific will have until January 1st next to complete its testimony and the month of February will be devoted to rebuttal.

ANITA BALDWIN SAYS SHE WAS DEFRAUDED

Is Complainant Against Manager of a School of Acting

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20. — Miss Anita Baldwin, one of the successful claimants of the "Lucky" Baldwin millions, is chief complainant today against Fred Osborne, manager of a "school of acting," whose arrest she caused on the charge of having violated the state employment agency law by taking a fee before he had a position for the applicant.

Miss Baldwin aspired to become a motion picture actress and headed the list of a number of well known young women of Los Angeles who have been subpoenaed to testify as to the promises held out by Osborne to make performers of them.

J. J. Egan, special agent of the state bureau of labor statistics, arrested Osborne. Egan declares that Osborne told his "pupils" that after they graduated from his school they would be eligible to join a motion picture company with an establishment near Burbank, Cal.

DEMOCRATS START SOLICITING FUNDS

Members of the Democratic county central committee started soliciting for campaign funds yesterday. Russell Chel carried a subscription list for those who wished to subscribe more than $5 and Earl Hughes carried a pack of cards to be given as "certificates of loyalty." These cards will be receipts for $5 donations. Quite an active campaign was carried on in the business section and some $300 or $400 was secured for use in the campaign.

The members of the committee will probably continue their campaign this morning and make a report at the meeting of the county central committee this afternoon.

SAYS MANY FAMILIES BEGGARED BY BETTING

Los Angeles Woman Names
25 Places Where Pools
Are Sold

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20. — Police commissioners and other city officials, including, according to their own assertion, chief of Police Sebastian and members of the "Metropolitan Squad," were astonished today to learn that there are at least twenty-five resorts in the city where gambling on horse races was conducted. The commissioners and the chief said they thought Los Angeles was entirely free from this sort of gambling but were informed to the contrary by Mrs. Mary Richter, wife of an artist, who declared her husband was one of a large number of men who had been reduced to penury by this form of betting.

Mrs. Richter had caused her husband's arrest on a charge of failure to provide, and then gave the names of several of the resorts which her husband had frequented, together with the names of a number of families, who, she declared, had been reduced to the verge of want by the operations of the race horse gamblers.

Mrs. Richter and a number of other women, whose husbands also have been playing the races, visited central station today and gave further information regarding the "pool rooms," which the police said in many instances were conducted by confidence men, who installed telegraph outfits that led nowhere, merely to deceive their victims.

FINISH TESTIMONY IN PATENT CASE

The hearing in the case of the United States government against George Baldwin and Mrs. Mattie Kearns to annul a patent given to land in the vicinity of Los Angeles, was concluded before Commissioner Gorman yesterday. The claim is being made by the government that the land is all bearing. An oil report of the government, testifying yesterday, said if there was oil in the land it was 5000 feet deep.

Testimony for the defense was given yesterday and witnesses were put on to testify regarding the residence of the defendants on the lands, prior to the time patent was issued.

The members of the committee will probably continue their campaign this morning and make a report at the meeting of the county central committee this afternoon.

Have Some "Time Off"

"A man's work is from sun to sun, a woman's work is never done." An old saying that, but certainly not a truism—at least not with the woman who works intelligently and who has modern conveniences at hand.

And the modern convenience that assists as much as any other in helping the busy housewife to have some "time off" during the day is to cook with gas. Cooking with gas saves time and work. With gas in the house there's no tedious, time-consuming "getting ready" for a meal, no exasperating, troublesome cleaning-up after it. It helps shorten women's working hours by doing all that's demanded in the shortest possible time.

Cooking with gas is quick, clean, satisfactory. And thrifty women are unanimous in declaring it to be economical.

Why not have "Pacific Service" in your home. Don't consider its cost—that will take care of itself to your satisfaction. Consider the comfort derived from its use—its great convenience.

The American Government

AFTER all it is your Government! Do you know what a wonderful Government it is?

War has shaken it; politics have hampered it; but age has strengthened it.

Greater than Republicanism, greater than Democracy, your Government has absorbed the best efforts of the greatest statesmen in all parties since the Fathers conceived and constructed the Constitution.

If the Governmental machinery is the battleground of politics, it still goes on, day in and day out, working for the 90,000,000 partners that own it.

If to your mind it is at times obscured by political clouds, reflect that it has been building for 135 years and is now too vast for any party to appropriate or permanently to control.

The American Government

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

The Book That Shows Uncle Sam at Work

Here is the remarkable book written for the American citizen, that tells a broad, accurate, compelling story of the American Government. Endorsed by the great in all parties, it deals not with present, but with past, present and future. Free from bias it tells not of the President, but of the Presidency; not of the Secretary of War, but of the Army; not of the Postmaster General, but of the Post Office.

It carries you into the deep channels of Government to show you the machinery and give you the facts. It conveys you from Washington to the Philippines; from Panama to the courts of the Ambassadors.

It is a book to thrill. It is a book to instruct.

Are you an American?

Read it.

HOW TO GET THIS BOOK

Desiring to render a great educational service to its readers, The Fresno Republican has arranged with Mr. Haskin to handle, WITHOUT PROFIT TO ITSELF, the exclusive output of his valuable book for Fresno. Out six copies of manuscript, freight and handling, and a copy will be presented to you without additional cost. Bear in mind that this book has been most carefully written, that every chapter in it is couched for by an authority, that it is illustrated from photographs taken especially for its use. It is printed in large, clear type on fine book paper. Have six consecutive copies and present them at The Fresno Republican office, corner K and Tulare Sts.

HORTICULTURIST COOK TALKS TO FRUIT MEN

Tells Growers of Hanford of Good Work Done by State Commission

HANFORD, Sept. 20.—Touching on local crop conditions as he viewed them this morning while taken through the county by automobile, State Horticultural Commissioner A. J. Cook, in his lecture this afternoon, pronounced them as excellent. Dr. Cook spoke especially of the work of the State Horticultural Commission, telling of improvements in the quarantine service.

Experts say that it is now well nigh perfect. "We have kept out the terrible pest, the Mediterranean Fly, which once distributed in our state, would ruin our great fruit interests."

In conclusion, after referring to the work of sending out monthly bulletins, he said:

"We will work in most cordial cooperation with the state university, the United States Department of Agriculture, the county commissioners, and all the fruit growers, putting all together, we will place California on the way to the front in the way of horticultural progress—even to a higher degree than that of today."

The meeting was held in the hall of the Commercial Union, where a number of fruit growers were introduced and the hall was beautifully decorated with flowers from J. A. Holden's garden near Arroyo.

MRS. TALENT GRANTED INCREASE BY COURTS

Widow of Hanford Man Gets More Money by Order of Montana Judge

HANFORD, Sept. 20.—After denying the petition of James and Richard Talbot, nephews of the late Patrick Talbot, for a reduction in the allowance to the widow from $300 to $200 per month, the court of Silver Bow county, Mont., increased the allowance to $400 from the Montana portion of the estate. The judge in Montana held that Mrs. Talbot should be allowed sufficient funds to maintain her position as the widow of the late Patrick Talbot. On the ground that Mrs. Talbot was receiving $300 from the Montana portion of the estate, the court in Montana held that she should be allowed the allowance of $400. Judge Covett granted the motion and she was then receiving $400 per month. By the increase granted in Montana, the widow's income will be $400, or $50 more than when she was receiving $300 from each state. Judge Dixon E. Phillips went to Montana as attorney for Mrs. Talbot.

RANCH NEAR ALPAUGH IS SOLD FOR $20,000

Mrs. Sarah Brooks, Santa Ana, Buys Neeley Property of 200 Acres

ALPAUGH, Sept. 20.—The Perry ranch near here was sold this week to Mrs. Sarah Brooks of Santa Ana for $20,000. The ranch consists of 200 acres. The change of ownership of Mrs. Neeley's property marks another entrance of southern California capital into this rich country. It was sold at more than $100 an acre, although the exact price has not been given out. Mrs. Brooks contemplates putting the land into alfalfa, and if this is done it will yield the new owner a handsome revenue. There is a good six-inch artesian well on the place and plenty of gas for fuel, with all modern improvements. Mr. Neeley moved on the place only last February, and since that time has added largely to the equipment.

PULLEY BREAKS IN MILL; ALL ESCAPE

Flying Iron Endangered Workmen and Segments Went Clear Through Corrugated Iron Wall

KERMAN, Sept. 20.—By the breaking of a pulley in the alfalfa mill, Wednesday several workmen had a narrow escape from injury. Flying iron went to all parts of the mill, and several of the workmen just missed being hit. About a dozen men were in the mill. Several of the corrugated iron walls of the mill and broke plank in the floor.

Strange Man Bothers Lonely Tulare Widow By Nocturnal Visits

TULARE, Sept. 20.—The repeated appearance of a strange man, the premises of Mrs. M. Ramos, a widow, residing on Fourth street, has caused considerable speculation among neighbors. According to Mrs. Ramos, who made complaint to the local authorities today, the stranger makes his appearance every night at a late hour demanding admittance to the house. Mrs. Ramos secured permission to arm herself with a revolver to protect herself from the prowler should he make his presence known again. Today she notified Justice of the Peace of the circumstances and added that if a woman named Ramos will know under what circumstances she came to this state, she will be glad to tell him.

SPORTSMEN OF STATE MEET IN CONVENTION

Sixteen Organizations Represented by Delegates Gather in Hanford

HANFORD, Sept. 20.—With representatives of sixteen of the thirty more associations and clubs affiliating with the parent organization, the California Game and Fish Protective association, in attendance, the preliminary business session at the sportsmen's convention now in progress in Hanford was held at the Arroyo Hotel this afternoon with President A. M. Barker, of San Jose in the chair.

The hour this afternoon was spent in appointing committees and making ready for definite business tonight and tomorrow.

The club and association representatives are the Fish and Game Protective association, Santa Cruz, Los Angeles, Tulare, Visalia, King county, Porterville, Marin county, Belma, Riverside, Santa Catalina Island, Del Rey-Los Angeles Club of Los Angeles, California Sportsmen's Game Protective association, the Wildgeon Club, and the Tulare River club.

Carl Westerfield, a member of the State Fish and Game Commission, together with the state commission's secretary Ernest Scheffle and Division Chief Deputy Commissioner Andy Ferguson are in attendance.

HEALTH OFFICER IS COALINGA VISITOR

Reports Sanitary Conditions Bad and States That Violation of Laws May Be Met With Arrest

COALINGA, Sept. 20.—W. H. Gourker, a representative of the state board of health, was in Coalinga today on an official visit. He made an inspection of the sanitary condition of the city and reported that he had in many instances. He believed that officers were doing their duty, but that there was a lack of co-operation on the part of citizens. He stated there were many violations of laws that would be met with arrest if not corrected. He left this evening, but will make another visit soon, when he will be gone even with the health department and certain recommendations made.

CHINATOWN IS SWEEPED BY FIRE IN PARLIER

Eight Buildings Destroyed and Loss Will Reach About $20,000

PARLIER, Sept. 20.—The loss which was caused by the fire in Parlrier Chinatown yesterday will reach about $20,000. Eight buildings were destroyed. The fire broke out at 2:30 in the morning. The flames were soon discovered by L. D. Sayre, but with no water or help at hand all he could do was to sound the alarm. The fire spread to the east and west, burning to the Willy track on the west and to the Sam Vick brick on the east. A change in the wind checked the fire. The buildings were all typical Chinese houses and were filled with Chinese. All had basements and stacks in the back yard and the whole quarter blacked like this time.

ABLE SPEAKERS TO BE AT INSTITUTE

Committee in Charge of Meeting of Farmers in Kerman in October Assure Good Program

KERMAN, Sept. 20.—Assurance has been given from the W. W. Charles, state superintendent of Farmers Institutes, that a very competent set of speakers will be at the institute to be held here the second week in October. The line of the program has been arranged and will be given to the public from the suggestions of the committee. The committee will be received by the committee at any time prior to the publication of the program.

TULARE DEMOCRATS WILL RUN SPECIAL

Visalia and Tulare to Join Together and Run Train to Hanford Tuesday

Day to Hear Commemorative Talk

TULARE, Sept. 20.—Local Democrats have united with those of Visalia in securing a special train to carry the crowds to Hanford next Tuesday morning, the date set for a speech to be delivered by William J. Bryan. The train will leave here at 4 o'clock in the morning and stop in Santa Fe, where 100 have already indicated their intention of going.

MRS. GEORGE KOHLER IS MUCH IMPROVED

Mrs. George Kohler, who was recently operated upon at Leland hospital, is improving each day and expects to be able to leave soon for Fresno, where the family will reside.

Kohler plans to return to Fresno for a few weeks, then going to Leland for the remainder of the winter.

WINE GRAPES SELL AT EIGHT PER TON

KERMAN, Sept. 20.—Ben Walter sold a car of wine grapes yesterday to J. Puccinelli, of Pirbright, for $8 a ton. The buyer runs a small winery there. Other wineries have been offering $5 and growers generally have preferred to feed their grapes to the hogs in selling at that figure.

CANVASS VOTE FOR WATER WORKS BONDS

TULARE, Sept. 20.—At a special meeting of the city trustees tonight, the vote of the recent water bond election was canvassed. The unofficial returns showed the sanction of the proposition of $100,000 by a vote of 27 over the necessary two-thirds majority.

CLASSES IN SELMA SELECT OFFICERS

SELMA, Sept. 20.—The three lower classes of the Selma high school have perfected their organizations this year by the selection of their officers. The students have not yet chosen their officers.

SHIPMENTS ARE BRISK IN TURLOCK DISTRICT

Seventeen Cars of Grapes, Sweet Potatoes and Melons Record for Day

TURLOCK, Sept. 20.—The high average of daily shipments of produce from this city did not seem to abate any, and today witnessed the usual large number of cars leaving the local yards. Of the total, seventeen carloads of freight that were sent out of Turlock today, six of them were in boxes, six grapes and six sweet potatoes. Wine grapes are being brought in very fast and in a few days they will be superceded all other outgoing products in the matter of tonnage.

LOSS IS ADJUSTED WHILE FIRE BURNS

MERCED FARM HOME

MERCED, Sept. 20.—The destroyed house on the ranch of J. J. Russell at El Capitán colony. A quantity of rice was also destroyed. Fortunately enough, Mr. Russell, accompanied by an adjuster from the company in which the property was insured, was traveling in his automobile within a short distance of his place and was among the first to see the flames. With the adjuster, he got to his place just as the building was completely razed. The house was fully insured, but the loss on the rice was considerable. No one was living in the house and Mr. Russell had a man working on the place. The loss was adjusted before the fire was completely out.

CANNING CONCERN TO START UP IN TULARE

Fresno Fruit Growers Co. Lease Modern Plant Idle in That City

TULARE, Sept. 20.—Through the efforts of Major C. A. Henry, a local capitalist, Tulare is to have a cannery in operation next Tuesday morning. This has been brought about by the leasing of the Tulare cannery's plant here to the Fresno Fruit Growers Company. This plant was built some two years ago, but was never opened up, though an extensive amount of modern machinery was installed and all appliances put in. The plant is now being overhauled and the installing of more machinery. This being the latter end of the canning season, the plant this year will handle only grapes. Three big crops have been purchased in this vicinity, and other contracts are being secured. The plant will employ twenty people. W. C. Hensley will be in charge.

COALINGA HAPPENINGS

COALINGA, Sept. 20.—Mrs. Alice Dean, wife of Walter E. Dean, is visiting her brother, who arrived from Los Angeles, having been attending the G. A. R. encampment. Mrs. Dean is organizer for Tennessee for the Woman's Relief Corps, with headquarters in Chatsanooga. She will remain several days.

Ed. Thompson, who was operated on ten days ago for appendicitis, was dangerously ill, is much improved and will be removed from the hospital to his home. Peritonitis followed and for a time his life hung in the balance.

Harry Sulberg arrived this morning from San Francisco, where he is a restaurateur and will remain here permanently.

C. W. Hall, interested in development work on section 2, arrived from the Bay City this morning.

J. J. Turner, manager of the O. W. Willing, returned this evening by automobile from San Francisco and San Mateo. He made the trip from Fresno to Coalinga by automobile, coming with Ben Taylor.

Vacate Order Is Obedied; Kings County Capital Now Slumless

HANFORD, Sept. 20.—Except for a pair of principals and witnesses in the illicit liquor cases now on trial, in Justice Meadows' court, Hanford at night today was free of disorderly houses and the order given by District Attorney J. L. C. Lewis, Sheriff Farmer and Marshal Humphreys, giving the half-women twenty-four hours following noon yesterday in which to make their departure from the boundaries of the county, has been obeyed.

The day in Justice Meadows' court in the blind-pick trials has been brought with fiery gibes by the attorneys for the defense and warmly couched replies by the prosecution.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR BRICK BLOCK

G. A. Hart Will Replace $45,000 Building Recently Burned in Terra Bella; To Begin Soon

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 20.—E. H. McKern, the Terra Bella contractor, has been given the contract for the erection of the G. A. Hart building, which is to be erected on the foundations of the big $45,000 building which was destroyed by fire in the neighborhood of Terra Bella. Construction will start as soon as material for the work can be placed on the ground. E. H. McKern, the Terra Bella architect, has been given the work of superintending the construction, the plans for the structure having been drawn by him. Temporary buildings, which will be occupied by the tenants of the former Hart block, are now in the course of erection.

PORTABLE SCHOOLS ABOUT DECIDED ON

Porterville Hears Reports From Pasadena, Where Plan Has Proven Very Satisfactory

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 20.—Officials of the board of education have about decided upon the portable school house plan for relieving congestion in various portions of this city, a report having been received from Pasadena and other portions of the south that this system has proven to be eminently satisfactory.

Local contractors will be asked to furnish figures on the construction of two buildings of the portable type. At the same time the factories engaged in the manufacture of this sort of building will be asked to make proposals for the erection of these structures on the local high school grounds.

Work on putting up the buildings will be started with as little delay as possible after the figures are received.

FRENCHMAN INSPECTS VALLEY FRUIT FARMS

Will Make Report on Methods in Use Here to His Government in Paris

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 20.—Viscount D'Azay, an attaché of the French legation at Washington and a former officer of the French navy, was the guest of the officials of the Porterville Bank yesterday and was taken for a tour of the orchards here.

The viscount is touring Central California to learn the details of fruit culture, for which this section of the state is famed. Among other places he visited yesterday afternoon was "Winterhaven," the famous orchard, which is the property of Robert Bahr. The viscount is much interested in the fruit industry and stated that he would report on it as being almost a model of Southern France.

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 20.—Dr. S. A. Hays, physician of this city, who has been engaged in a long and arduous fight to secure the street sweepings of the city for the purpose of making a compost for the city's garbage, has been informed that the city council has rescinded its contract with him for the purpose of making a compost for the city's garbage.

SHIPMENTS ARE BRISK IN TURLOCK DISTRICT

Seventeen Cars of Grapes, Sweet Potatoes and Melons Record for Day

TURLOCK, Sept. 20.—The high average of daily shipments of produce from this city did not seem to abate any, and today witnessed the usual large number of cars leaving the local yards. Of the total, seventeen carloads of freight that were sent out of Turlock today, six of them were in boxes, six grapes and six sweet potatoes. Wine grapes are being brought in very fast and in a few days they will be superceded all other outgoing products in the matter of tonnage.

Complaining Witness in Horse Stealing Case Refuses to Prosecute

Reason Is Not Apparent

VISALIA, Sept. 20.—At the request of the complaining witness against Lester Sloumb, who was charged with a charge of grand larceny, the superior court moved to dismiss the case, and as a result of the motion Sloumb was set free by Judge Bagby today. Sloumb was charged with stealing a horse from R. J. Alsworth, of Visalia. There was a clear case against him, but for some reason the complaining witness asked that the case be dismissed.

EDDYTORIAL

We are going to dash off this eddytorial on the subject of, "It Is More Blessed To Give Than To Receive."

Any Bugle reader who is as familiar with their Bible as we be with ours will observe that the subject of this eddytorial is took from the scripter, but we person that there will be many readers who wouldn't know where it come from if we wassent to enlighten em as per above.

It ain't been only a couple of wks ago that Rev. Moore, our beloved pastor, preached a sermon on this same text, and at the time we heard the sermon we thort it would also make a good subject for a eddytorial and made a note of it according, so here it is:

Judging from the way Bingville folks have treated us since we have been edditor & prop. of the Bugle for 10, these menny yrs. ago, it is our humble opinion that there ain't no more than one citizen outen a hundred in Bingville (and we ain't got only about 300 inhabitants in Greater Bingville all told, including men, wimmen, children, dogs and cats)—we say it's our opinion that there ain't more than one citizen outen a 100 in Bingville, who believes in his heart that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

If they did we kalkilate they would give us somethink on hank subscriptions instid of banging onto their wallets like grim deth. Some of our subscribers is back anywhere from 10 to 15 yrs (some more, some less) and when them as is back the farthest comes to the Boogie offis and slams down a quarter or a half dollar (but skeerely ever a whole dollar) they act as if they was doing us a turrible big favor and walk out with their heads in the air still owing us for 10 or 15 yrs.

If it's more blessed to give than to receive why in thunder-shion don't some of these dead bees come to time instid of being silt-tight wads and stinky cusses, we ask?

Week after wk they receive the Bugle and they don't give nothink for it. In spite of this fact, however, our expenses goes right on piling up and increasin until some times we thort shure the sheriff will git us before sunset. Time and agin we have managed to squeeze outen the sheriff's hands jest by the skin of the teeth, but we perdict that unless our subscribers akts on theory that it's more blessed to give than to receive and pays us what they owe us they will wake up some morning and find the sheriff's notis tacked on the front door of the Boogie offis and it will serve em right not to have no newspaper in Bingville to give them all the news that's fit to print, including births, marriages, et cettery, too numerous to mention and also red hot eddytorials in each issue to give them opinions as ain't got no opinions of their own.

Doggone a dead beet subscriber ennyhow! He makes us sick to our stomach and nauseated and discurraged until we jest git that out of patience that we feel like thrashin him every time we meet him on the street.

What does a dead beet subscriber think ennyhow! Does he think that we can subsist on air and promises? Them turrible poor things to insist on when a feller has a appetite like a bear what has jest come out after being denned up all winter.

We are agoing to bang this eddytorial to a close before we say somethink which somebody will sue us for libel for. We don't desire to be sued for libel, being as we ain't got no money to pay damage—let alone to hire a lawyer.

Locals

Hiram Cranby made a big mistake last wk when he purchased a pr of rubber boots at Hen Weathersby's store which was too small for him and drawed his feet so that he cant wear em, and now Hen wont take em back being as they have been wore, and as a result Hen has the boots on his hands, but he hopes to dispose of em soon, being as he has marked em down to $2.45 etc. whereas he paid $2.50 for em. Any person desiring a pr of rubber boots, No. 10's, apply to Hen. He thinks he could wear a pr of No. 12's without em pinching him.

Mel Skinner knocked a turrible cold in his head last wk which made him really cuf his head. Hen his shoulders, and to make matters worse this wk the cold has went and moved from Mel's chest into his head. Betwixt the two, Mel says, he would rather have a cold in his chest than his head. He also says he would like to know where the dogmashion he kicked his cold at.

We expect to have some little expense along tords the last of this month, and we would like to make a range-ments with one or two persons in Bingville or vicinits to subscribe for the Bugle (unless they already be subscribers), and we also wish to say that they must pay cash strictly in advance. No others need apply. Go ahead and subscribe!

Local news ain't quite so plentiful this wk as usual. Well, that's the way it goes—some wks they are and some wks they ain't. However, what the above locals loses in numbers is made up in length. There ain't very many of em, as you might say, but each one fills a good gal of space for a local item. Them as ain't paid us nothink on subscription for many yrs will confer a favor on the editor of the Bugle by reading yers carefulls the eddytorial which appears in this wks Bugle.

Bud on the Rampage!

Bud Hinckley Who Aint Quite Right in His Head Stirred Bingville up Turrible Last Thursday—Full Particklers as Give per Below!

Bud Hinckley, who ain't quite right in his head, & son of the Widow Hinckley, who is a very estimable woman in spite of the fact that she's got a simple son. This, however, ain't no reflection on the widow, being as she is as bright and smart and intelligent as can be.

It is our opinion that Bud never got none of his simphness from his mother but from his father, old Ab Hinckley, who passed away many yrs ago. Ah wasn't quite right in his head neither, jest like Bud, and therefore Bud come by what he ain't got in his head honest, as you might say.

Sometimes Bud is worse other times he was worse. First thing Bud done after he had et his breakfast was to rig up a fish hook on the end of a string. Then Bud he stuck the fish hook through a grain of corn and threaded the grain of corn with the fish hook into it eger into Ame Hillyer's hen yard and awaited results, which wassent very long in coming.

Ame's big dominecker rooster, which Ame takes a good gal of pride in, seen the grain of corn fall on the ground and made a dash for it and swallowed it, and the next minute the rooster had the hook in his throat and begin to pull on the string and squawk somethink turrible, while Bud held on to the other end of the string and hollered louder than the rooster could squawk.

Ame, who was in the house at the time, heard the racket and run out and when he seen what Bud had did he grabbed him by the nose of the neck and carried him over the ears until Bud stopped laffin and begin to holler and bawl.

Bud's mother heard him and rushed to his rescue and when she seen Ame cuffing her Bud she laid hold of Ame and jerked him until she shuk his false teeth outen his month. Then she slaps him in the face and his eye is swelled stet still and sore his coat and made him apologise and beg for mercy for abusing her son, who ain't quite right in his head anyhow. The rooster will die.

After this was over Bud he wandered down street until he come to Cy Hinckley's buggy shed, which was open at both ends, being as Lem Brown had jest varnished Cy's buggy for him and had propped the doors open so as the air could get through and help to dry the varnish. Well, Bud he stuck his fingers against the varnish on the buggy to see if it was dry yet, and when he found it wassent he thort it would be a good joke to throw dust all over the buggy, which he did, and the dust stuck to the varnish and now the buggy will haft to be all sandpapered agin and varnished over.

From here Bud he went to Hen Weathersby's store about noon. There was nobody in the store but Hen, and he had dropt off to sleep, so Bud he sneaked into the store and rummaged around until he found some cannon crackers which Hen had left over from the last 4th of July, and Bud he tuk one and found a match and lit the fuse of it and poked it under Hen's chair and then run outen the store and peeked through the door.

When the cannon cracker exploded under Hen he woke up with a turrible yell of anguish and give a jump into the air and landed with one leg in the cracker barrel and tother foot in a leg of salt mackerel. Then with another howl of despair he run outen the store and diddnt stop running until he was half way home. Then with great presence of mind Hen returned to the store, thinking some of the sparks might of set it on fire, but they haddnt.

Bud done some other mischief that same day, but these we have mentioned is the worst.

If Bud Hinckley is going to aekt like this, it is our opinion that somethink ort to be did with him. He ort to be put into a reform school or somewhere where he wouldnt be a menace to society.

In our opinion any girl who goes in for dress aint very well dressed when she wears these kind of stockings which musketeers can bite through, and besides they must be turrible cool this time of yr. However, everybody to their taste.

Jim Hicks, who runs a saw mill on Snake Bend settlement, offered Hank Dewberry a job last wk at a dollar per day and found. Hank, who aint did a lick of work this summer, tuk the job, and the first morning he went to work what did he do but set down on a log that was being sawed and went plumb off to sleep, and if Jim Hicks haddnt yanked Hank offen the log jest in time he would of been sawed in two. Hank he quit the job right there. Jim give him a quarter for the time he had worked and Hank returned to Bingville. Hank says the saw mill business is too risky for him.

We guess this is all the Personal privities we can think of at this time.

LIVING GOLD.

BY WILL SEAT.

"You any relation to her?" asked Betty Morgan, in her cheerful way that no one took offense from. "She looks just like you."

"She is my daughter," the man told her simply. "Her mother is a very beautiful girl."

"Where is she?" asked Betty bluntly, crying the child, and noting the good quality of her clothes. This was no longer's child, she decided.

"She is dead but one month now," he answered gravely, one hand upon the child's head. "After this Lois and myself we have to grow up together, eh, Lois?"

He had stayed there in the white pine country for years, making few friends, living at the Morgans', working steadily, happy to watch the child grow and blossom.

She was a tall, strong-limbed girl, unlike the dusky-haired, blue-eyed Constance. She could step from log to log like the men, and loved to climb on the piled-up mass of a jam above the falls and peer over at the foaming, leaping water far below.

"It makes me dizzy to do that, Lois," Constance would say. "How can you? You are like a boy."

"Ah, if she had been a boy history would have been all changed," her father would exclaim, a sudden glow lighting his eyes. "Then she would have taken up my work and finished it, now I must let it go for her sake and rest always beside her."

As she grew older the words had a new meaning for Lois.

"There is somebody you would take revenge on," she asked one day, with a touch of his own abruptness. He met her gaze in silence for a minute.

"How old are you, Lois?"

"Nearly 16."

"Your mother was 19 when you were born. She is so beautiful, Lois; I can never tell you how beautiful she was."

"And there is one man who hates me always because I have married her. He followed me down from the straits, then back up through the territory, then down again, always we know he is just there, behind us."

"And finally, one night he came to our house, and she sits by the fire rocking you to sleep. We are far in the woods, so we give always the night's shelter to anybody who is lost. But when I see his face, I remember him, and your mother put you down quickly, and comes here and shoots at me."

Lois's strong young hand clasped his tightly. Her cheek was pressed against his knee as she knelt beside him.

"Did he get away?"

"Yes, I have to look after her first. He put her hair gently. "Some day maybe we will find him."

"If we ever do," whispered Lois, "it won't make any difference my being a girl. I will help you, father."

But the breath of life slipped out of old Fontaine before his heart's desire came true, and Lois had been left alone at the Morgans'. Constance went to the convent, but she remained alone in the woods, with old Mrs. Morgan.

Then every spring when the logs were floated down the river, there came Paul L'Hommedieu up from the lake settlements to work in the logging camp. He was the first man whose eyes had looked straight into Lois's, whose broad young shoulders over-topped her own, who was not afraid of her keen wit and swift tongue, or chilly ways.

And the third spring, when Constance came home from the convent, he had told Lois that he loved her, and would take her away with him to the lake towns when the logging season was over.

Constance knew nothing of the love that had grown in the shadow on it like beavers. Paul paused a moment by their side.

"In Charlevoix we have nothing like that, Lois," he said, tenderly. "You will miss it."

"You are from Charlevoix?" she asked innocently.

All that afternoon she had been making inquiries among the other workers watching the jam, and men working lost his footing, and fell backward into the water.

At any second the jam might give way and sweep them over, but Lois reached the place, and as he rose she caught him and hauled him half way up on the logs.

He had been struck on the back of the head and was half unconscious, but she held him until Morgan and another lumberman had come to the rescue. And just as they reached the shore in safety with their burden the jam gave way with a mighty roar and the logs dashed over the falls like jackstraws.

It was the next week after Constance had gone back to the convent that Paul opened his eyes and looked at the figure beside his bed. His head was bandaged and his whole body throbbing with pain.

One thing in all the world seemed to stand out clearly—Lois's uplifted face, with the deep blue eyes, and dark curly mass of hair around it, and her lips, a wonderful deep coral red against the clear olive of her face.

"Was it not punishment enough to know he had killed the one he loved?" he asked slowly.

"He suffered most, Lois, I can remember. He was not my father, but my father's younger brother. We came down from the Straits to care for him after he lost his mind. I can always see him pacing up and down the sand on the lake shore, calling to Lois to come back and set him free from torment. I did not know that I would love Lois, too—another Lois."

Lois knelt beside the bed and laid her face against his head, as she had loved to do her father's and both knew the bar of red could cast no flame of ruin over their young lives. Love had turned it to living gold.

THE DOCTOR.

BY ELSIE ENDICOTT.

The age of 16 Miss Allen Dustan was presented with a chicken. It was in a way a birthday present.

She wanted something alive—something she could pet and call her very own. Her father had said, "If you should have seen him!" was retorted. "Do you think the highway is free only to you?"

"Of course not, but it is only a rooster."

"Only, sir—only? Do you know I have had this rooster for four years? Do you know he is a pet? Do you know he has the intelligence of some human being? You are either very careless or very heartless."

It was young Dr. George Clymer who had just started in practice in the village. He had funds enough to keep an auto, and medicinal check enough to go skimming around in it as if he had received a call from a man with a broken neck.

While driving along he was thinking how and when his first patient would come. He saw how seriously the girl took the affair, and he introduced himself and added that if any bones had been broken he would be happy to mend them free of cost.

"It is his right leg," she replied. "He may also have received internal injuries."

"I trust not. As for the leg—"

"You are a doctor, you say. Are you also a vivisectionist?"

"Why, under certain circumstances I think—"

"You shall not practice on my rooster! Don't you dare try any experiments on him!"

"No, of course not. I had thought of taking him to the office, where I have all the necessary appliances for setting broken limbs, but—"

"You can bring your appliances and perform the operation here," commanded the owner of the rooster as she did her best to soothe the bird. "I will take him into the house."

Dr. Clymer felt both amused and insulted. The young lady was good-looking. The family was wealthy. He was single and ready to fall in love. On the other hand, was his patient to be a broken-legged rooster?

Would that recommend him to the village? That was veterinary work if work for any one. The thing to do was to wring the old bird's neck and make a potpie of him. No; he would not go back and become surgeon to a rooster. He entered his office and sat down to a medical book.

"Ting-a-ling at the telephone. Half an hour had passed.

"Is this Dr. Clymer?"

"Yes."

"This is Miss Dustan. I thought you were coming right back. I am the owner of the rooster you ran over."

"Yes, but I have a call from the country. A man has fallen four stories."

"I can't help it if he has fallen 14. My rooster is suffering tortures through your carelessness. I demand that you come at once—at once, sir!"

"Very well; I will be there in 20 minutes."

Which was worse—to perform a surgical operation on an old rooster or incur the displeasure of a wealthy family—one that he should seek to propitiate? And there was the girl herself, and—

The doctor went. He arrived at the Dustan mansion to find the patient lying on his back on a sofa cushion in the library. His left leg was elevated—his other lying prone. His eyes were closed, and Miss Allen was pale-faced and tearful.

"We will look for internal injuries first," said the doctor as he lifted up the bird and felt of him. "I guess the broken leg is the only thing."

"Be sure—very sure!"

"May be a slight bruise or two, but nothing to worry about. Hold him down on his back while I put on the splints."

"But he must have ether. Suppose you had a leg broken?"

"But I am no bird. You can't make him tubal, and if you chloroform him he may never come out of it."

"Dear me, but I can't see how you could have the heart to run over him. You ought to have turned out. Go ahead, but don't make him suffer any more than can be helped."

It was a surgical operation soon over. The old rooster was game and made little trouble. A plaster of paris cast was not deemed necessary, but there were instructions to be given as to the patient's diet and handling.

The affairs of the house could go on just the same, and Mr. Dustan need not neglect his business in the city, but there should be no undue excitement. Complacency, serenity and good nursing would bring the rooster to both feet again in due time.

Dr. Clymer was introduced to the father and mother before he left. The mother was somewhat anxious about the case, the father winked at the doctor over the daughter's shoulder.

You cannot find a medical book that will tell you how many visits a surgeon must make to cure a rooster's broken leg. Dr. Clymer called every day for a week. Then he pronounced the patient on the high road to recovery and cut out three calls in the seven days.

Pretty soon there were two calls per week only, and those in the evening. At first the rooster was the main topic of conversation. Then other things crept in. As the bird began to limp around his welfare ceased to be discussed, and when he crowed again he was almost dropped out of sight.

In the long weeks, running into months, the doctor got a patient or two, but it was uphill work and he became discouraged, when one afternoon Miss Allen's father said to him as they sat on the veranda:

"Doctor, what is a 4-year-old rooster worth in cash?"

"About 60 cents."

"And your bill must be over $100?"

"I thought—thought we might make it a family affair."

"All sit down together to eat the rooster when he dies, eh?"

"Something like that."

"O well, you young fellows must have your chance. Go and ask Allen what she thinks of it."

And when the question was propounded to her, 10 minutes later, she answered:

"Why, I've got to say yes, haven't I? Suppose my rooster gets run over again and has another broken leg to get!"

A REMEDY.

BY HENRY HIGGINS.

Not until after he had spoken did he realize that a woman of Anabel's type is never actually prepared for the supreme declaration of her lover. And to think that he had construed her halting her confusion as an affection!

In their long-continued friendship, Hartley had lost sight of the disparaging contrasts of his own character. He had been self-centered, dictatorial, even deficient in gentlemanly instincts, he told himself, and he had not realized it. Now he was brought face to face with himself. It was Anabel's calmness, her lack of surprise at his latest offense, that had enlightened him.

Without a chance of her countenance, she had looked back in her chair and looked up at him, standing in torturing doubt before her. He, who a moment ago had been so sure of her!

"I shall not, then, take time to consider," she said, "since you think it so unnecessary, I can tell you tonight—it can never be."

"Anabel!" There was precipitate remembrance in the exclamation.

"And," she continued, still quietly, but with an added tremor in her voice, "perhaps you will be interested to know that when I marry—it will be a man who can occasionally look into himself, a man who is altruistic, and above all, deferential to women."

So that was it; he was self-absorbed, a perfect donkey of an egoist, and worse than that—he had been discourteous.

Hartley Filmore did not look the part; he possessed a well-built frame, a dignity of movement that was by no means stiff; and his aggressive earnestness of expression was tempered by an abiding gentleness—until his defeat with Anabel.

That made a change. Two months went by bringing a hot September and unmitigated dullness. The dullness looked out of Hartley's brown eyes and lurked in the tense set of his jaw.

Anabel had gone to the country or the seaside, or somewhere, Hartley did not know where; he had no interest in events that did not concern him. He took things as they came and kept close within himself. His law practice was unusually slack at that season. He was bored with life in general and with himself in particular.

Just as it seemed that existence had reached the inward abn stage a diversion entered his office one day in the form of a woman client. She was an awkwardly dressed woman from a country town, and she had an appealing story to tell. At least it appealed to Hartley. He hurried his arrangements, left a few commissions with a brother lawyer and in a few days he had gone out of the city.

Two, three, four weeks. Hartley Filmore was away. In the meantime a certain young woman, with a complexion as white and satiny as the heart of a coconut and eyes that were alight with expectancy, came home from her vacation.

She eagerly took a new employment; it was to keep watch of the daily papers. What she found in those smeared and lumpy news columns to make her eyes sparkle and dance, and then dream off into abiding gladness, it would have been difficult to guess.

But on the day that Hartley Filmore returned home the climax of the trial that Anabel had been following was given, a column on the front page of the leading daily, and a certain young lawyer's name appeared in the largest type.

Hartley threw aside the paper with disgust. He reddened to the temples.

"I suppose she'll think I'm a egotist," wrote this part about myself," he muttered, and not content with tossing the printed sheet from him, he crumpled it and dropped it into the waste basket.

As he did this, some one entered his little reception room—some one with a silken rustle of skirts. His surprise, his wonder, his almost awe, at sight of his visitor, were unequivocally betrayed. He half started back, and then he went forward to meet the girl's cordially outstretched hand. It was Anabel; her face, away from her walk in the crisp air, flashed eager friendliness and admiration.

"I congratulate you, Hartley," she said.

"Please don't speak of it," deprecated the young man. "Truly, I was not working for publicity."

"Of course not," she laughed humorously.

"But how do you know I didn't write it up, myself?" There was a smile.

"Anabel came a step nearer. "I know," she asserted, "I know better. The woman told me she had nothing with which to pay a lawyer—I sent her to you."

"You! The young man's face was a study of eager incredulity.

"Yes, she is a sister of the woman with whom I stopped in the country. She told me of her trouble, and I sent her to you, because—because—"

She placed her hand lightly upon his arm. But so completely had Hartley Filmore been cured of his egotism, that he could not believe, even now.

With a reluctant, "Hartley!" she dismissed her baggage. A change came into her face—something deeper than friendliness was in her look, something that spoke of gratitude and admiration.

"I shall not congratulate you then," she conceded, "but I want to thank you to thank you sincerely for your championship of a woman who needed and deserved it."

Hartley was ungracious, obdurate. "Of course, I was only working for self," cynicism still lurked in his smile.

JUST SMILES.

Jocular Mr. Stubb.

Mrs. Stubb's Dear me! I think it's a shame I wonder why the railroad company insists upon my pet building riding in the baggage car?

Mr. Stubb (with chuckle)—Appropriate place for him, Maria. You know, huli-dogs carry grips.

Cranky Speeders.

Thark—Ever notice these motorists winding up their machines in front? Every auto must carry a crank.

Blunks—Yes, from the way some motorists yell at pedestrians some autos must carry two or three cranks.

Nothing Unusual.

"That's the most egotistical man I ever saw," remarked the hotel lounge.

"In what way?" asked the clerk.

Why, he signed his name "Bill Jones, O. K." The idea of a man calling himself all right!

"Oh, that don't stand for 'all right.' It stands for 'Owen's horse, Kentucky.' That's where he is from."

One or the Other.

"It is a good thing to hunker for fame," remarked the struggling author.

"Yes," assented his friend the artist. "If you don't get the fame you are sure to get the hunger."

Those Auto Proposals.

He proposed to her in an automobile. Then he let the lovers switch. Cried both: "We are now in contact."

And next day they were in the ditch.

Sensible Realization.

Quinn—Where is the young post here?

DeFunto—Doing well. Always has a dollar and a woman a new suit. He's realized something.

Quinn—Sold some of his poems, eh?

DeFunto—No, realized that he is not a poet and got a job as book-keeper.

He Was Having It.

Stubb—That's a witty Britcher. While he was sitting on the park bench some mischievous boys filled it with wax and his coat-tails adhered as if they were cemented.

Fenn—Great joke! What did he say when he arose?

Stubb—Why, that well-known British expression, "I'm having a ripping time."

CITE MOUNTAIN MEN EXPEND $694.35 FOR VIOLATIONS OF "DRY" LAW

Thos. Ockenden, J. W. Armstrong and John Beguhl Cited by Deputies

Accuse Beguhl and Armstrong of Selling Liquor; Ockenden of Keeping It

Charging that they violated the Wyllie local option law, under which Fresno county was voted "dry" some time ago, Thomas J. Ockenden, proprietor of Ockenden's summer resort; John W. Armstrong, a store keeper at Armstrong; and John Beguhl, formerly a saloon keeper at Meadows, one and a half miles from Shaver, were placed under arrest in the mountains yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Thorwaldson and Bottorff and cited to appear in court. Armstrong and Beguhl are charged with violating the law by selling liquor and keeping it on hand in a public place, which the specific charge against Ockenden is that he had liquor stored in a public place. Beguhl will appear before City Justice Graham today to answer to the charge and have the date set for his preliminary hearing. Armstrong will appear Monday and Ockenden will answer to the charge against him a week from today.

Complaints charging Beguhl and

FOR INSPECTION
Cost to Maintain Standard
on Grapes, About
$1 Per Car

It cost the fruit shippers just one-ninth of a cent a crate, or about $1 a car to have grapes inspected for sugar this summer, under the Valley Standardization League. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday by J. O. Harris, secretary of the league. The total cost of inspection was $694.35. The standard rule for grapes was in effect from August 1 to September 1. The total shipments of grapes for this period were 739,634 crates, and the expense of shipping was prorated among the shippers. The highest amount paid was a few cents over $195 and this was paid by the Stewart Fruit Company.

Although the total expense seemed to amount to quite a sum of money, when the pro rata was made, it was found that the actual cost was infinitesimal, when compared with the amount of fruit shipped out.

The matter of having the standard in force another year has not been discussed as yet, but it is probable that the matter will be taken up this winter. In another standardization league is to be organized, steps will be taken to have the inspection much more uniform than was possible this year. In view of the fact the league was organized one day and inspectors put in the field the next.

Armstrong has already been cited in City Justice Graham's court by Ed Melchionan, who alleges that he purchased liquor in the hotel and general merchandise stores conducted by the two men. A formal complaint will be lodged against Ockenden today.

The evidence. Armstrong and Beguhl were under the direction of Sheriff McSwain and District Attorney Church. Reports had been received at the sheriff's office that the law was being violated by Armstrong and Beguhl and that liquor was being sold to people in the mountains. Sheriff McSwain resolved to get the evidence on the men and prosecute them.

Under the direction of the sheriff and district attorney, Melchionan was sent into the mountains some days ago with instructions to secure the evidence against the men by fair means. Melchionan returned to Fresno Thursday and informed the sheriff that he and another man had purchased liquor in the hotels run by Armstrong and Beguhl. Armed with warrants and search warrants issued by Justice Graham, Deputy Sheriffs Bottorff, Thorwaldson and Melchionan left Fresno Thursday afternoon for the mountains and stayed all night at Shaver.

Early yesterday morning they swooped down on Beguhl's place at Meadows and seized a large quantity of liquor. Beguhl was arrested and cited to appear in court. The same plan was carried out at Armstrong's. As long as the officers were in the mountains, they decided to make a thorough investigation, and although they had no right to store liquor there, against Ockenden's resort, they visited the place. Ockenden met the officers personally and took them through his place. Ockenden showed them that in the cellar under lock and key he had stored the liquor that was left over after he closed his saloon when the county went "dry."

As the officers considered Ockenden's resort a public place, they placed him under arrest.

The arrest of Ockenden will likely become a point of law as to whether his cellar is a public place and whether he has the right to store liquor there. Under the terms of the Wyllie local option law, liquor cannot be stored or kept in a public place.

Deputy Sheriff Thorwaldson returned to Fresno late yesterday afternoon. Deputy Sheriff Bottorff is expected to arrive in Fresno today on a day that was hired to bring the seized liquor into the city.

FORUM CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING IN PARK

M. B. Harris Makes Address for Roosevelt; Upbraids La Follette

Cureton and Griffith Speak for Wilson; Mrs. G. G. Ives for Debs

An audience of about 200, a large part of which were Socialists, gathered at the courthouse park last night at the first meeting of the Open Forum Club. Addresses were given by M. B. Harris on Colonel Roosevelt, by W. H. Cureton and S. N. Griffith on Woodrow Wilson and by Mrs. G. G. Ives on Debs and the Socialist party.

W. H. Cureton called the meeting to order and A. M. Drew acted as chairman. Cureton read the preamble of the club and the names of the officers and members.

M. B. Harris, the first speaker of the evening, announced that he was a Republican, but that he could not say what the politics of some of the members of the club might be. They were for La Follette once, he remarked, and are now for Taft.

Harris declared that he would have been for Roosevelt if Roosevelt had asked for a third consecutive term, remarking that that had Roosevelt wanted the third term then he could have had it.

"This is a peculiar campaign," he said, "because everybody has stolen something and no one is in jail."

Harris then launched into a vigorous arraignment of the Republican national convention in Chicago in June, declaring that the American people in every state but one declared for Theodore Roosevelt and that in fact in that state they were given no say. Notwithstanding this, he declared that the committee of 50, by thievery and sordid guile, cheated Roosevelt out of the nomination.

The act of that Republican convention, he asserted, was an insult to the American people. He declared that the candidate of that convention was not entitled to the vote of any self-respecting citizen. For himself, he said, he would consider it self-degradation to vote for Taft.

Harris turned aside again to remark about what he termed the inconsistency of the former La Follette supporters on the Forum Club committee.

He said they were Progressives once and were for La Follette, but that now they were for Taft. Frank Short, he said, had been consistent. He also remarked that the politicians on the club committee had skillfully manipulated the program as to put him in front so that all the other speakers could give a testimonial to him. He said that he was the one man who had a chance of being elected.

He added that Governor Johnson is the one man in California that the trusts are afraid of, and also remarked that every trust-owned publication in the East is pounding Roosevelt.

W. H. Cureton, who was introduced to speak for Wilson, declared that Roosevelt was not progressive until six or seven months ago and that he would have accepted the nomination for the presidency on any platform.

Cureton said he was undecided as to how he would vote. "I may vote for Debs," he added, and the audience cheered. He said the Democratic platform did not contain any reforms that he would be willing to take Wilson without any platform. As to Roosevelt, he would not trust him on any platform.

S. N. Griffith, also speaking for Woodrow Wilson, deplored the wave of radicalism that is going over the country and gave words of praise to the Standard Oil company, asserting that it paid high wages. He remarked that the condition of the laboring men now was as good as general conditions would justify.

He was for Taft, he said, but inasmuch as he could not vote for Taft he was going to vote for Wilson, because he believed conservatism should be shown and that reforms should not take place at once. In fact, he asserted that this country could not be reformed in one campaign.

Mrs. G. G. Ives, speaking for the Socialists, opened her remarks by reading the Socialist platform. She then engaged in a somewhat lengthy discourse on the reforms the Socialists seek in this country, particularly declaring against monopolistic control, as against best interests of laboring men.

YOUNG MAN TO TALK ON BIBLE INSTITUTE

J. Chester White Here From Los Angeles to Secure Students for School

J. Chester White, representing the Los Angeles Bible Institute, arrived here yesterday in quest of students. Tomorrow evening he will speak at the Calvary Presbyterian church on the work being done by the institute, which is modeled along the lines of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. White issued an invitation to the Christian Endeavorers of the city to attend the meeting tomorrow night, at the July convention of the state Christian Endeavor members here. White was the official plank for the delegates.

He explained yesterday that the purpose of the Los Angeles Institute is to train young leaders in all lines of Bible work, including positions for missionaries and pastors. The organization is building a half million dollar home in Los Angeles. This structure is to be twelve stories in height, with accommodations for 3,500 students. Separate departments are maintained for boys and girls. White explained that the institute also maintains a missionary, pastor and Bible work instruction by correspondence. The institute has been in existence for four years.

NEEDHAM IS HERE TO ARRANGE DATES

Congressman J. C. Needham arrived here last night in conference with local Republican leaders regarding speaking dates in this county. He will meet with a number of the leaders this morning and expects to leave this afternoon for Modesto. Needham was in Coalinga yesterday and arranged for a night meeting there on October 12th.
